House Studies Federal Road Fixup Program

Senators Hand Ike Sharp Defeat OKing Dem Substitute Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over a massive road-building program shifted to the House today after the Senate handed President Eisenhower a sharp setback by passing a Democratic rival to his highway plan.

The Eisenhower plan was beaten 60-31 in the Senate before that body went on to shout its approval of the Democratic measure without a rollcall.

On the decisive test, 13 Republicans deserted the administration while only one Democrat, Kennedy of Massachusetts, supported the President's proposal.

The Democratic measure would set in motion, subject to actual appropriations, a five-year $18 billion highway spending program, one of the biggest nondefense projects ever sparked by federal funds.

It would be designed to improve and modernize all of the nation's road systems—from major superhighways linking up all parts of the nation to farm-to-market country roads in every state.

• • •

OF THE TOTAL, the federal government would put up about $12.6 billion and the states $5.4 billion.

Federal grants for roads in the first year of the program, the financial year starting July 1, 1956, would double present outlays. By the fourth and fifth years, they would be triple.

The federal share would be financed by direct outlays from the Treasury through regular appropriations. This would tend to swell the present federal deficit, and is a chief administration objection to the bill.

The key feature of the Eisenhower plan was a $21 billion bond issue outside the debt limit, to be repaid by earmarking excess gasoline tax revenues for 30 years.

But this in turn was the point of heaviest attack by Democrats. Sen. Byrd (D-Va) called it the most unsound financing scheme proposed in his 22 years in the Senate.

In all, the administration proposal called for a $38 billion federal-state program over 10 years, with most of the emphasis on the 40,000-mile system of interstate superhighways.

Holiday Traffic Death Toll May Be Close To 360

CHICAGO (AP)—The death toll in traffic accidents during the three-day Memorial Day weekend, the National Safety Council estimates, may reach 360.

The council estimates that some 40 million motor vehicles will be on the nation's highways during the holiday period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Traffic deaths for the three-day holiday last year totaled 362.

Three ministers will conduct a 25-minute funeral service for the 360 persons who the Safety Council predicts will be killed over the Memorial Day weekend.

I have had several calls regarding tulip poplars in the city, all of them about comparatively small trees except one.

I mentioned the big tulip poplar at the intersection of Broadway and Hopkins Street as the largest I had noticed within the city, but I received an anonymous letter (and no one likes anonoymous letters, and I usually throw them in the waste basket) calling attention to a large tulip tree at a lot at the corner of Oak Street and South Hinde Street, which is said to be 22 inches in diameter near the ground.

So far as I know, it is the largest tulip tree within the city.

Plans Made for Memorial Day Observances

Flag-lines streets and band music will mark Memorial Day in the city and in towns across the county, but that will be only half the story.

Hundreds of friends and relatives of men who died in the service of their country will observe the day more quietly and more sadly. Graves in the county's dozens of cemeteries will be decorated with flowers and flags as Fayette Countians remember their dead.

Special Memorial Day services will be held Monday in four communities, Washington C. H., Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville and New Holland. In each, observances will include a parade and commemorative services in cemeteries.

The music of two bands will mark the tempo as 19 units, most of them colorfully dressed in full uniform, march through the city Monday morning.

The parade will wind through the city to the Washington C. H. and St. Colman cemeteries, where special Memorial Day services will be held.

Slated to start from Market Street at 10 A. M., the parade will move down Market to Hinde Street, from Hinde to Court Street and on out Court to the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Following services there, the parade will move on to St. Colman's Cemetery on Elm Street.

The bands will be the Junior and Varsity music-makers from WHS. Among the units in the parade will be the men and women of the city's veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries.

The parade will be so big that it must be assembled in two sections, according to the parade marshall, Robert Jefferson. He will have charge of putting it together following plans laid out by Francis Morgan, commander of the Paul H. Hughey Post of the American Legion. The Legion has charge of the parade this year as in the past.

"All the units are to assemble where they're assigned," Jefferson said. "The police want to keep Fayette Street open for the usual heavy Memorial Day traffic, so please don't get confused and go to Fayette Street."

The first half of the parade will assemble on East Market Street between Main and North Fayette streets. All the units of the band will line up in the order in which they will march.

Leading off, of course, will be the police cruiser to clear the last stragglers from the line of march. Next will come the American and state flags, borne by the Company M color guard.

Then in order will follow the cars carrying the speakers and the heads of organizations marching in the parade, the Company M firing squad, the WHS Varsity band, Company M and its colors, the O. E. Hardway VFW post and its colors, the Burnett—Ducey VFW post and its colors, the Lawson American Legion Post and its colors, the Paul H. Hughey Legion Post and its colors, the VFW Auxiliary and its colors and the Legion Auxiliary and its colors.

The Junior WHS band will lead off, followed in order by the Boy Scouts, the Cub Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, a group of girls in uniform, cars carrying those members of the Disabled American Veterans and other veterans who are unabled to walk, and the Company M, jeeps.

Jefferson stressed that any veteran who could not walk would have to call either Edward Jones (9771) or Commander Francis Morgan of the Legion (6481) to reserve transportation.

The services at Washington C. H. Cemetery will be opened with an invocation by a minister as yet unnamed. The main speaker will be Rev. Robert West, an army veteran of World War II who was formerly a missionary in Germany and now is pastor of a church in Illinois.

Services at St. Colman's Cemetery will include the playing of taps and a salute to the war dead by th eCompany M firing squad.

After the parade leaves St. Colman's Cemetery, it will march only a few hundred yards before breaking up.

BLOOMINGBURG'S parade will set out from the Town Hall at 2 P. M. with the junior WHS band providing the music.

The parade will assemble in front of the hall at 1:30, with the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, the American Legion and its Auxiliary and all veterans on hand. The marchers will move through town to the Bloomingburg Cemetery, where commemorative services will be held on the lot surrounding the soldiers' memorial.

Dr. Paul F. Elliott, pastor of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services, opening with the invocation and delivering the main address. Dr. Elliott will close the services with the benediction.

• • •

THE JEFFERSONVILLE High School band will provide the music for the parade in Jeffersonville. Starting at 1:30, the parade will move from the assembly point on High Street to Maple Street,

Polio Shot Manufacturer Objects To New Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A manufacturer of Salk vaccine said today the government's proposed new production standards would require a "considerable increase" in the volume of tests without assuring a safer vaccine.

Kenneth F. Valentine, president of Pitman-Moore Co., Zionsville, Ind., made that statement when asked what were the objections by manufacturers to the proposed revised standards.

Valentine did not elaborate. An increased volume of tests obviously however, would mean (a) increased costs to the manufacturer and (b) a lengthened production time.

The proposed new standards have not been disclosed.

They were laid before the manufacturers at a meeting yesterday afternoon. The manufacturers raised objections and, as a result, a further session was scheduled for today.

Valentine said all the manufacturers were to meet today with the newly established vaccine clearance panel "to try to see if we can get a meeting of minds."

• • •

THE PANEL, which includes such top polio scientists as Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, was given broad powers in connection with clearance of vaccine.

It also will undertake "continuing review of the manufacturing processes, review testing procedures both by the manufacturers and by the National Institutes of Health, and evaluate plant inspections by the National Institute of Health."

Surgeon General Leonard Scheele announced the appointment of the panel yesterday and also the establishment of new testing standards.

He said, "we are now ready to move ahead," meaning to resume quickly the nationwide polio inoculation program. But the objections from the manufacturers came then as a snag to his hopes.

As the new conferences went ahead today, the health service reported there were 246 new cases of polio last week. This compares with 206 in the preceding week.

Last week's new cases brought the year's total to 2,050, compared with 2,450 in the similar 1954 period. For the "disease year," which starts about April 1, when incidence is at its lowest, the corrected total is 986 for 1955 and 897 for 1954.

They Forgot To Tell Him To Quit Trying

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Nobody told Charlie it was time to quit. They could have seven years ago.

What chance have you when you become paralyzed from the chest down? How can you go to school when you can't walk?

Charles L. Whitmarsh Jr., now 25, answered these problems and many others.

On June 5, he will be graduated with second honors from Speed Scientific School at the University of Louisville and one month later will start on a master's degree.

Obviously, Charlie has come a long way since that day in August 1948 when he and a friend were sleeping in a truck near Ocala, Fla.

Told he would never walk again, Charlie learned to swing himself along on crutches and to operate an auto with hand controls.

In 1951, he re-entered Speed, where he had completed one year of chemical engineering.

Appeal Shelved By City Council

Little Legislation At Regular Session

A number of matters came up for consideration by Council Wednesday night, but legislation was limited because of the absence of two councilmen, Paul VanVoorhis and C. L. Musser who were out of the city.

An ordinance to increase to $100 the fee for tapping city sewers by persons whose property has never been assessed for sewer purposes was placed on its first reading.

The ordinance does not apply to property owners who have already been assessed for sewer purposes.

It also applies to persons who tap private sewers after others have constructed such sewers and paid the expense, but the $100 goes to the persons who built the private sewer.

A resolution authorizing the Ohio Water Service Co. to install three hydrants on Comfort Avenue in the new Belle Aire subdivision was adopted.

• • •

A PETITION bearing signatures of all city firemen, asking for a 56-hour week, instead of 72 hours on duty, (including nights spent in the firemen's quarters) was presented, but not discussed at the open meeting.

At the executive session following the regular meeting, the proposal was discussed, but it was indicated that no action would be taken pending outcome of a bill now pending in the Ohio Legislature, providing for 56 hours a week for firemen.

It was also brought out that reduction of the present hours would necessitate employment of two more firemen at a cost of $7,400 per year, and that no funds for the increase are now available.

An ordinance to approve the Belle Aire subdivision No. 3, and repealing one approving such subdivision, passed April 13, but which was found to have been passed without the application being on file the required time, was placed on its first reading.

Application was mad by Mrs. Minnie S. Smith to have Council move a fire hydrant some 13 feet from its present location, so a circle drive could be built on her property at 427 Circle Avenue.

It was indicated that council would not comply with th request.

Thief Specializes On Clerk Offices

GEORGETOWN (AP)—Brown and Adams County authorities today hunted a thief who specializes in county clerks' offices.

Noon-hour roberies yesterday netted a thief $116 from the Brown County clerk's office and $61.20 from the clerk's office of Adams County in West Union, 16 miles to the east.

Bills Aiding Ohio Juveniles Get OK

COLUMBUS (AP)—Two measures vitally affecting school children won approval yesterday in the Ohio Legislature:

1. A bill to clean up comic books and movies sold or exhibited to children under 18.

2. A bill to set up a new distribution system for the state's school subsidy. It is based on a teacher-classroom unit of 30 pupils while the present system is based on the individual child.

Today, the House votes on a bill to restore movie censorship in Ohio.

The bill to clean up comic books and movies intended for children was approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

The measure to set up a new school subsidy formula was passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

The comic book measure would ban sale or distribution to children under 18 publications depicting obscene,unlawful and unusually cruel acts. It also would ban motion picture depiction of acts provocative of crime and child delinquency.

• • •

THE COMIC book-film bill got House approval, 124-3, after considerable debate. Rep. John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin), a cosponsor, said mounting juvenile delinquency creates the need for the ban.

The bill carries a maximum $1,000 fine and six months in jail for violation of the comic book section and up to $5,000 fine and six months in jail for violation of the film section.

The school bill was accompanied by just as much oratory as it sailed through the senate, but, like the comic book bill, the issue never was in doubt. Information before the debate was that at least 16 Republicans and six Democrats would vote for the school bill.

The upshot: 18 Republicans and six Democrats supported it. That gave the measure seven votes to spare.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a measure to require the election of governor and lieutenant governor of the same party.

The constitutional amendment would permit only the ballots of one party to determine the lieutenant governor elected to serve with a governor.

The ballot would be similar to that now prescribed for the President and vice president. One "X" would be valid in casting a vote for both candidates.

Approval by the Senate would give voters at the polls the final say on the proposal. It requires a change in the state constitution to place it in effect.

Court Upholds Tax Equalizer

State Board's Actio.. On Real Estate OKd

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has affirmed the power of the state board of tax appeals to equalize valuations and assessments on real estate in Ohio.

The court yesterday upheld the tax board's approval of a $750,430 valuation on a Cincinnati department store, Rollman & Sons Co., made by the Hamilton County auditor.

The firm had challenged the board's power to sustain uniform assessments made under a statewide equalization program established by the Legislature in 1949.

The court said:

"Where the mode of valuation adopted by the board is reasonably efficient and applies uniformly to all counties, such action is valid."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche Monday vetoed a measure which would have allowed county auditors to appeal to courts on equalization orders made by the tax board.

• • •

THE HIGH COURT also backed the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in refusing to allow the Mount Vernon Telephone Corp. a $156,648 yearly rate increase.

The court unanimously upheld a commission order for the Chillicothe Telephone Co. to join with Ohio Bell and Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. in extending to Chillicothe and Portsmouth a private line already linking commercial motor freight offices at Columbus, Lancaster, Newark and Zanesville.

Horrified Dad Sees Child Killed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Horrified, Oliver Newman looked from the front porch of his home beside the New York Central Railroad and saw his 2-year-old daughter Margaret, who had been playing in the yard, sitting in the center of the tracks. A freight train was roaring toward her.

Newman ran toward the tracks, but too late. The train struck his daughter when he was only a few feet away. She was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Ohio's Allocation Of Polio Fund Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A breakdown of the proposed plan for allocating $28 million in federal funds for free polio vaccine for children who can't afford to buy it shows Ohio with 2,650,539 unvaccinated children under 19 years of age.

Seventeen per cent of these children would be covered by federal payments totaling $1,108,295.

Reds Give Nod To Big 4 Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union formally accepted today an invitation to take part in a Big Four parley at the summit. At the same time it charged the United States was setting up prior conditions "which will doom the conference to failure."

"There is only one explanation," the Soviet Union said in notes to the United States, Britain and France, "namely that the government of the U.S.A. contrary to its declaration does not desire to settle international problems."

The note specifically referred to statements made in Washington concerning relations with the Communist people's democracies in Eastern Europe.

It declared that any attempt to discuss the situation in those countries would be completely inadvisable.

It also said the United States planned to enter the proposed conference with a policy based on "positions of strength."

THE NOTE SAID "all that is being done despite the fact that the futility of such attempts in negotiating with the Soviet Union has been shown in the past."

In an unprecedented step, the Soviet Union included separate sections of its notes to Britain and France which did not appear in the note to the United States. These sections were veiled appeals for France and Britain to support the views of the Soviet against those of the U. S.

"The Soviet government believes France and Great Britain hardly agree that the above mentioned declarations of leading officials of the United States contribute to an appropriate atmosphere for a conference of four powers," it said.

14 Towns Lashed And 700 Injured In Vicious Storm

55 Known Dead In Udall, Kan., And 15 In Blackwell, Okla.

UDALL, Kan. (AP) — The spring's most devastating tornadoes ripped through 14 Kansas and Oklahoma communities last night leaving 77 persons dead and property damage estimated in the millions.

The injury list totaled more than 700.

Hardest hit were Udall in Southcentral Kansas and Blackwell in northern Oklahoma, towns just 80 miles apart. The death toll included 55 in Udall, 15 in Blackwell, 5 in Oxford, Kan., and 2 in Sweetwater in western Oklahoma.

Most of Udall's population of about 750 was left homeless. Approximately 200 persons were injured. In Blackwell, a town of 10,000, some 500 were injured and approximately 36 square blocks devastated.

The Weather Bureau said the Udall twister was the worst killer in Kansas history.

The town was virtually destroyed.

The twisters, the years most devastating, also roared into Texas but apparently caused no deaths there.

However, severe Texas thunderstorms last night may have caused the crash of a huge B36 bomber in rugged ranch country, killing at least nine men aboard.

Udall was virtually destroyed and more than 100 persons were injured. In Blackwell, where the tornado leveled homes and factories in an east side area of about 36 square blocks, some 500 were injured.

• • •

OTHER TOWNS hit included Geuda Springs in south-central Kansas and Erick, Durant, Shattuck, Mayfield, Camargo, Leedey, Taloga, Cheyenne, Deer Creek and Strong City in Oklahoma.

The tornadoes caught the residents by surprise.

"It sounded like a freight train coming through the house," said Johnny Walker, 37, of Udall.

• • •

"THERE WAS an explosion, it seemed like, nd all the windows shattered."

In Blackwell, the Hazel Atlas Glass Co. plant, a two-block factory in the center of the storm's path, caught fire after being flattened. Thirty-five workers on the night shift escaped before the structure collapsed, however.

Bread trucks and other commercial vehicles were pressed into service to speed the injured to hospitals.

First word from a rescue crew that reached the burned out hulk of the six-engine B36 early today was that nine bodies had been recovered. It was reported the plane carried a crew of 14.

The plane crashed as lightning crackled and thunderstorms raged over the West Texas ranching area about 35 miles southwest of Sterling City.

The truck convoy from Goodfellow Air Force Base that reached the crash site first said there

He was convicted yesterday in common pleas court of falsification and fraud in attempting to take a test and get a license for his brother, William Cochran, 21, of Cincinnati. Charles' signature did not match William's on a temporary driver's license. Charles was fined $100 and costs.

Silent Brass Bell Brings Discord in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shiny brass bell, silent itself, produced clanging discord today as the Interstate Commerce Commission set up a ceremony "to commemorate the passing of steam locomotives from America's transportation scene."

These friends insist that coal-burning engines are still very much a part of the railroad picture and that "death and burial services" for them in a government building are highly improper.

Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa) joined a chorus of protest by coal - state congressmen, making an appeal to ICC Chairman Richard F. Mitchell to call off the ceremony, which he described as "a stunt to publicize the diesels."

Among other things, Kilgore demanded to see the vote by which the 11-man ICC had decided to participate in what he described as "an oil-generated hoax."

There was no comment from Mitchell, but aides said the ceremony was still on.

The National Coal Assn. had appealed to President Eisenhower to intervene, questioning "the ethics and legality of using a government building to advertise a particular form of motive power." The White House has made no pronouncements on the subject.

After the protests arose, ICC officials said there was no intention of injuring the coal industry. They noted that between 85 and 90 per cent of all railroad service is now diesel-powered.

The idea of a memorial to the steam locomotive originated with the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad. The Frisco, now completely dieselized, provided a marble and Indiana limestone shaft for Permanent installation in the main lobby of the ICC building. The shaft, inscribed, "In memory of the steam locomotives that served so long and so well," is topped by the retired locomotive bell, polished to a mirror-finish, and embossed with the official ICC seal.

The seven-foot monument was moved into the lobby several days ago and swathed in red velvet, awaiting today's unveiling, to which members of Congress, government officials and of railroad presidents were invited.

Bible School Starts Soon

The annual Vacation Bible School is to be opened at the First Christian Church, corner North and Temple Streets, at 9 A. M. Tuesday, Rev. Don McMillin, the pastor announced today.

Mrs. John Callender is superintendent of the nursery department; Mrs. Carl Meriweather of the beginners classes; Mrs. Norman Knisley of the primary; Mrs. Ottice Stookey of the junior and Mrs. Elba Patch of the intermediate department.

Rev. McMillin said the school's program will be "Bible-based, Christ-centered and Church-related."

The daily class schedule will be varied with recreation, worship, object lessons, Bible drills, handiwork and pictures, etc. Both home and foreign missionary work will be used as special projects.

The foreign missionary studies will include the Campbell children in the Philippines — Charlott, Philipp and James.

The school, with classes from 9 to 11:30 A. M. daily, will continue until June 10, Rev. McMillin said.

from there to Main Street and then on out to the old Jeffersonville Cemetery.

The marchers will include, in addition to the band, the boys and girls of Jeffersonville School, the Knights of Pythias, the American Legion and the VFW.

When the parade reaches the cemetery, services there will include addresses by Rev. Don McMillin of the First Christian Church in Washington C. H. and Rev. Norman Newman of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church.

The VFW firing squad will give the salute to the dead and taps will be played.

After services at the old cemetery, the parade will break up, reassembling at Fairview Cemetery for additional services. The same speakers and program are planned at Fairview Cemetery.

At New Holland, the Jeffersonville High School band will be in action, playing the music for the parade that will wind through town from Legion Hall to the New Holland Cemetery.

Slated to start at 3 P. M., the parade will assemble in front of Legion Hall at 2:30 and the marchers will fall in at 2:45. Members of the Arch Legion Post 477, in charge of planning the observance, estimate the parade will take about five minutes to reach the cemetery. The band will open services there with appropriate selections.

Rev. Gene Creamer of the New Holland Cnurch of Christ will deliver the invocation and Rev. J. K. Price of the New Holland Methodist Church will give the Memorial address.

Following additional selections by the band, the Legion firing squad will fire a salute and taps will be sounded. Rev. Creamer will pronounce the benediction.

The parade will then return to Legion Hall by about 3:30, the planners estimate.

Evangelistic Series To Start Next Week

Plans for evangelistic services at the McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 3, 4 and 5, today were just about complete.

Dr. Paul H. Elliott, the pastor, said a gospel team from the Cleveland Bible School will be in complete charge of the services which are being sponsored by the Westminster Fellowship.

Carl Brooks is to deliver the sermons. Assisting him will be Mrs. Brooks and four other students.

This team recently conducted a similar series of revival services at the White Oak Methodist Church. The consensus of the congregation there was that the series was "very inspirational."

Evening services are scheduled over for Friday and Saturday of next week, starting at 7:45 P. M.

On Sunday, June 5, the team is to have charge of the Sunday School, starting at 9:30 A. M., the morning worship service at 10:30 o'clock, a youth meeting at 6 o'clock and the final evangelistic service at 7:45 o'clock Sunday evening.

The services, it was emphasized, are all open to the public and the hope was expressed that there would be a good attendance at all services.

Midwest Tornadoes

It was not immediately known whether more bodies might be in the still smoldering wreckage.

Goodfellow Air Force Base said the plane was believed to be from Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M.

Even brick and stone buildings in Udall were leveled.

Portable lights were moved into town during the early morning hours to aid rescue crews.

* * *

The twister snapped off telephone poles at ground level and wire criss-crossed the streets. Cars parked in the streets were smashed by falling brick walls.

Rain accompanied the twister and continued to pour down after it had passed.

Police, civil defense workers and highway patrolmen from nearby areas converged on the town to aid the injured and search for dead still in wrecked buildings.

Refugee centers were set up at nearby towns.

Cries of the injured could be heard in the darkness by rescue workers, who swarmed quickly over the wreckage.

Let's Hope Public Remains Sensible On This

With all the comment and a lot of unnecessary criticism regarding the present polio vaccine problems, and how they should be handled, it is vital that the citizens of this community and all over the country, keep a sensible attitude and view the whole question in proper perspective.

Political jitter-bugs of the type of Senator Morse of Oregon, who usually is found on the wrong side of most every question in which he speaks out for temporary political effect, should not be allowed to upset the public or cause any growing alarm which could do great future damage by bringing about public sentiment demand for an unjustified course of action.

For anyone to get into a curbstone "dog fight" with an individual of the type of Senator Morse, would be useless and undignified. We are happy to note that President Eisenhower in his recent statements refused to enter into any debate with Morse who is always "spoiling for a fight" with somebody in the hope of keeping himself in the public spotlight.

Americans must not forget, President Eisenhower suggested, the gratitude they owed to the doctors and the technicians who had made the vaccine a reality.

What is more, said the president, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, whom Senator Morse had criticized, was "merely the agent of these great scientists and doctors" in conducting the government's part of the program. This is a polite and oblique but obvious response to the Morse suggestion that Mrs. Hobby is responsible for the hitches that have developed and ought to be fired for that reason.

It goes without saying that the Eisenhower Administration approached the vaccine issue with its well-known commitments in favor of decentralization and private initiative. But it is hard to see how a rigid government control from the beginning could have averted the main problems that have arisen. Those problems certainly so far as they have been reported and so far as the layman understands them, are scientific problems, laboratory problems.

Thus the first big closedown in the vaccination campaign came with the appearance of scattered cases of poliomyelitis in areas where the Cutter brand of vaccine had been used. This raised the question of whether the Cutter product was adequate. Now a further delay came about so that technicians can perfect their methods of testing the vaccine. In both instances, scientific questions were involved. They had to be handled and are being handled by scientists.

But how could a strong government control have averted these incidents? No matter how rigid, a government control scheme would itself have depended on the counsel of scientists and technicians—the very scientists and technicians who have been in charge anyway. To suggest that as government people they would have transcended the human qualities, including proneness to error, which marks them in their private capacities, does not make common sense.

Jumps To Big Conclusions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Little broad-jumps to big conclusions or snap judgments a guy couldn't prove in court:

Four out of five times it is more expensive to buy a dinner for a small woman than a large one.

When a girl cozily murmurs "I don't really eat, I just peck at food," you can bet on it that the bird she pecks like isn't a wren but an ostrich.

There are more secret eaters in America than there are secret drinkers.

Some of the most religious people I know also regularly read astrology magazines. In heaven's name, why?

Maturity begins the moment you discover something you want that money won't buy.

Social climbers always remind me of a racetrack bum who won't pick up cigarette butts anywhere except at the $50 window.

Bigotry is the most revolting form of poverty; it is the only sign of snobbery a mental pauper can afford.

A bachelor never knows what he has missed. His married friends don't know what he has missed either. But they do like to guess.

A fellow who is always talking about what he'd do if he had his life to live over again probably doesn't know what real living is anyway.

Most people are too narrow-minded to appreciate a sense of humor in an undertaker.

Aneurin Bevan, Britain's Bad Boy

By George Sokolsky

London, May 21.—Britain's bad boy is Aneurin Bevan, an evangelical, primitive socialist who goes his own way, shattering before him whatever does not fit his concept of life. He is now engaged in splitting his own Labour party which, if it is defeated in this election, could fall apart into three sections, Bevan leading one of them. It is possible both to underestimate and overestimate this man; the significance of his political activity is that he cannot be ignored. The Labour party stands for managerial socialism which is more like the New Deal in the United States. They would have the government controls over the life of the people and government ownership of those phases of the British economy which are monopolistic or tend to become nomopolistic. But they are not ideological marxists, coming closer to a Norman Thomas socialist than to a communist.

The most important economic problem in this country is raising the standard of living of the people. Wages are comparatively low. The average annual income of a typical male clerk or a female stenographer would be about 400 pounds which is about 1150 dollars; the average female industrial worker about 300 pounds or 750 dollars; the average male industrial worker under 21 about 250 pounds or about 600 dollars. This provides a picture of income and purchasing power. Instalment buying is not highly developed and is not encouraged because the fear of inflation is very great.

The Labour party wants wages increased and the standard of living raised by government controls and by what they regard as scientific methods; the Conservatives believe in competition and creating demands for more products by prosperity which depends to a great degree upon an export trade. The Conservatives are impressed by American methods of creating mass consumers and mass production industries. The Labourites, who are socialists, have many reservations about American methods. Both parties wonder what mass production and particularly automation can do to social conditions in a comparatively small country. Aneurin Bevan runs across this discussion with early twentieth Century arguments of the Kier Hardie type which no longer fit the conditions of these times. But what makes little difference because of his emotionalism, his oratory, his stimulation of discontent give him an important following despite full employment and a rising wage scale.

It is to be noted that no improvements affect those who live on old age pensions, who have become the new poor. As long as full employment exists, Bevan's arguments arouse interest but do not give him prime leadership. As a matter of fact, the opposition to him is strongest in the trade unions. But it is admitted on all sides that if the economy suffered a setback, if conditions inside or outside affected Great Britain, so that unemployment returned, there is no telling what Bevan could accomplish politically. He might reach leadership in the Labour party and even become Prime Minister. Bevan is anti-American although it is not clear whether that is a political manoeuvre like a Mayor of Chicago threatening to punch King George's nose to get votes, or is a support of Soviet Russia which Bevan does not openly support.

Even his enemies deny that Bevan is a communist, although they are not able to describe exactly what he is because his ideas do not fit a pattern. They only know that he makes trouble for everybody and revels in it. When the Labour party tried to expel him, they came up against sufficient resistance to take him back, and he is now out campaigning under Labour party auspices, although he says the things that they do not want him to say in this campaign. He seems to be Henry Wallace, Wayne Morris and Harold Ickes all rolled in one and nobody can handle him. It is not only a matter of ego: It is political manoeuvring to become Prime Minister some day. Here any man who has reached the political level that he is considered as a possible Prime Minister, takes on a greater political significance than a possible presidential candidate does in the United States. That is due to the Parliamentary system which gives past, present and future potential Prime Ministers a forum. Lloyd George killed the Liberal party on the anvil of his ambitions: It is feared by Labourites that Aneurin Bevan may do the same to the Labour party.

Reasons Are Many For Aching Feet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

My feet hurt!

How often have you heard someone voice this complaint? You've probably done it yourself; for aching feet is a very common ailment.

Other Causes

We all know that shoes that don't fit can cause aching feet. But, did you know that infection in your teeth, nasal sinuses and digestive tract can give you foot trouble, too? Poor circulation may be responsible for your discomfort or you may have arthritis; but, whatever the cause, there is much you can do to alleviate that pain.

If your shoes are at fault, proper padding to ease pressure will probably prove comforting.

Poor Posture

Posture also plays an important part in foot comfort. Always stand with your feet pointing forward in their natural position. If your feet point outward instead, they put undue strain on the ligaments connecting the foot bones—especially on the inner side of the long arch. This might only cause a slight ache at first, but before long it will develop into severe pain.

In one painful condition which we call "spurs," small callous-like formations develop on the bone of the heel. If this is your trouble, you can probably relieve the pain by alternately wearing shoes with different heel heights each day.

The best cure for aching feet, of course, is complete rest. However, bed-rest over a long period just isn't practical for those of us who have to earn a living. Nevertheless, you can give them a certain amount of rest every day. For example, while you are sitting down, place your feet straight out in front of you on another chair.

Contrast Baths

To aid circulation, try the contrast baths. Get two pails large enough to accommodate both feet. Fill one with hot water, the other with cold water.

Place both feet in the warm water for one minute, then switch them to the cold water for one minute. Follow this procedure for about ten minutes. This should hlep quite a bit.

Van Wert Tot Is Center Of Legal Dispute

Mr. and Mrs. Darnell Brown of Columbus, who have given the youngster a home since last February, filed charges of neglect yesterday against his father, Max Smith of Van Wert.

The couple also has a civil suit against Smith, seeking $300 they say was spent caring for the boy.

Columbus police said Smith told them Sunday he had come for the boy, but the Browns refused to surrender him.

Police quoted him as saying he left the child with the couple early this year when he was working in Ft. Wayne, Ind., and his wife was ill in Van Wert.

He said the Browns were friends of his wife's sister.

Counsel for the Browns, Walter Grelle, said yesterday welfare authorities in Van Wert County would investigate charges the Smiths neglected the boy and their two other children.

Juvenile authorities also will investigate the case here, and a hearing will be held in Juvenile Court to determine custody.

Railroads Tell Stockholders About Gains

Annual Reports Say Recent Times Better For Large Carriers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Rail stockholders are getting glowing pictures at their annual meetings — if they look back only one year or so for their comparisons.

New York Central shareholders, meeting today in Albany, are being told by Robert R. Young of the gains over a year ago. Pennsylvania Railroad's president, James M. Symes, told stockowners this was the best year in the last 10.

Reports at annual meetings of better times have come recently from the head men of Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, St. Louis-San Francisco and others.

Gains over last year for railroads as a whole are terrific — earnings of the 126 top roads up 90 per cent; car loadings up 12 per cent; and prospects for even better gains ahead.

Back in the 20's the railroads carried more than three fourths of all freight between cities. Today they carry barely more than half. In those earlier days they toted most of the passengers. Buses and airplanes have siphoned away much of this business. Railroads complain that what is left is run at a loss.

Competitors have captured many of the new products of our expanding economy and most of the new traffic routes opened up by our geographically shifting population, the National Industrial Conference Board points out.

The results showed up bitterly for the railroads a year ago. Because so much of their freight business is now in bulk commodities of low value per ton — such as coal, ore and coke — last year's setback in industrial activity hit the roads hard. This year the gains for the rails sprang in large part from the revival in the heavy industries.

To aid the roads, the Presidential Advisory Committee on Transport Policy and Organization recommends broad relaxation of federal controls over interstate transportation.

(City School Superintendent)

Sometime ago a news item was carried in the Record-Herald listing science projects exhibited by students of Washington High School at the District Science Fair at Wittenberg College. In addition to those projects three senior physics students constructed somewhat elaborate projects of an electrical nature which did not lend themselves to being transported away from the city for exhibition.

Dick Pensyl constructed a complete home music system consisting of a record player, radio, tape recorder, and microphone which are arranged so that sound from his choice of any of these sources can be fed into a high-fidelity amplifier and then into a "hi-fi" speaker for reproduction. The amplifier is 100 per cent the work of the proud owner of the system. Dick says that this is the first major project that he has constructed with his own hands, and that he got as much enjoyment out of the construction of the set as he does in listening to the music produced.

Wray Herdman is probably the only person in town who can tell which way the wind is blowing without going to the door or window. Wray has constructed an electrical wind indicator, which is a glorified weather vane, so wired that the wind direction is always available by reading a series of flashing lights on an indicator panel. A great deal of mechanical ingenuity was displayed by Wray in the construction of this project.

Ralph Hoffman, who is a licensed commercial radio operator in addition to being an amateur radio operator, has constructed a complete "ham" radio station and is "on the air" using call letters W8LFR as much as time will permit. Ralph states that his hobby has enabled him to make many friendships throughout the United States and in several foreign countries as well. The construction of this project required many hours of study in basic theory of radio preceding actual construction and use of the set.

Science educators are constantly trying to impress upon their students that science is something to be done instead of merely being something to be read about and talked about. Many valuable college scholarships are open to students who are willing to spend their spare time in the construction of science projects.

In a recent national typing contest Linda Perrill and Ronnie Whitaker were awarded certificates for achieving over 60 net words a minute. Linda's typing speed in the contest was 65 net words a minute, and Ronnie had a net speed of 62 for five minutes.

The contest was sponsored by the Pittman Publishing Corporation, and more than 10,000 typists in high schools throughout the nation competed. Cash prizes of $100, $50, and $25 were given for the three top places, and certificates were awarded to those who achieved 60 net words a minute or over.

Lausche Sets Flag Week In Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche has proclaimed June 6-14 National Flag Week in Ohio, and June 11-17 Civil Air Patrol Week.

The governor called on Ohioans to join in the commemoration of the birth of "Old Glory" during Flag Week and to make themselves more familiar with work of the Ohio wing of the Civil Air Patrol during the other period.

Television can't harm the eyes, says the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

A COUPLE OF HAIR-RAISERS have been booked for Friday and Saturday at the Fayette Theater. One is "Tarzan's Hidden Jungle" (scene above) in which Gordon Scott takes the title role and the other is "Big House, USA" a story that stars Broderick Crawford in a savage prison outbreak.

Couple In 70s Plans Boat Trip

NEW PORT RICHEY, Fla. (AP)—A 77-year-old retired engineer, who made headlines with a small boat trip from Sandusky, Ohio, to New Port Richey by himself in 1952, will leave with his bride of "about 70" on a 7,000-mile small boat jaunt next week.

Married last Saturday to the former Mrs. Louise Lussier of New Port Richey, Capt. Harvey H. Hecker says they will go to Fort Myers, 150 miles south of here on the Gulf of Mexico, then to the East Coast via the Cross State Canal, up the Atlantic Coast's inland route, the Hudson River, and the Great Lakes to Chicago, then back down the Mississippi River and around the Gulf Coast to New Port Richey.

Weekend Holiday Specials Set Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smoked hams and turkeys will dominate the list of specials in the nation's foodstores for the approaching Memorial Day weekend.

These holiday favorites will be priced below a year ago, meat men report. In general, turkeys will be down a couple of cents a pound. Smoked hams will be available at levels 10 cents a pound or more below those of last Memorial Day. Canned hams also will be lower.

Sirloin steak prices will be higher in many places, but by and large popular cuts of meat will sell for around the same prices as a week ago.

The American Meat Institute comment is that contrary to the usual pattern, pork continues in relatively good supply for this time of year, with retail prices ranging 13 to 31 per cent below those of a year ago.

Both the green and the yellow types of squash offer good value.

Asparagus, carrots, beans, celery, escarole, endive, corn and new crop onions also are recommended by the produce specialists.

U. S. Prosperity Moves Up Slightly

CINCINNATI (AP)—An economic adviser of former President Truman says the annual rate of income of the American people has risen $15 billion in the last six months.

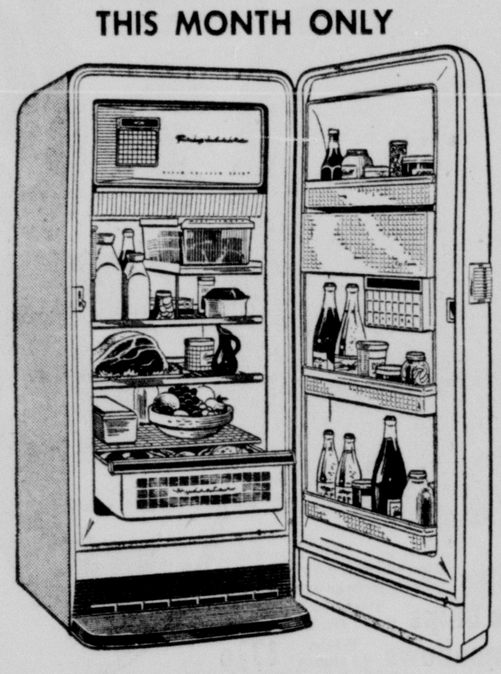

And, says Leon H. Keyserling: "In the next few years, economic prosperity in the United States is going to grow at an accelerating rate."

Rug experts estimate it would cost 10 billion dollars to replace all the rugs and carpets now in use in the United States.

Ohio's Mental Hospitals Over-Populated, Data Shows

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state department of mental hygiene and correction reported today Ohio's largest mental hospital has a population of almost twice its capacity.

The department's statistics bureau said Longview State Hospital at Cincinnati has 3,599 patients. The American Psychiatric Assn. rates its capacity at only 1,803, the bureau said.

Many patients at state hospitals are sleeping in corridors and therapy rooms for lack of space, said Dr. John Porterfield, department director.

Porterfield said cluttered corridors are not only a fire hazard but impair efficient operation. Because of the lack of therapy space, he added, patients who might be cured continue to occupy beds that would be available for new patients.

The department has recommended a 107-million-dollar program of expansion and rehabilitation of the state's mental institutions. This, the department says, would provide for more than 11,000 extra beds and bring the institutions' capacities near the present caseload.

Two institutions, Massillon State Hospital and Orient State Institute for the Mentally Deficient, have the second largest populations with 3,280 patients each. Massillon's rated capacity is 1,847 and Orient's capacity is 2,020, the department said. Toledo State Hospital has 3,061 patients and a capacity of 1,962.

Popultions at other Ohio mental institutions, in order of size, with rated capacity in parentheses, are:

Columbus State Hospital, 2,784 (1,832); Cleveland State Hospital, 2,697 (1,511); Cambridge State Hospital, 2,494 (1,748); Columbus State School, 2,185 (1,439); Gallipolis State Institute, 2,130 (1,295); Apple Creek State Hospital, 2,107 (1,219).

Athens State Hospital, 1,690 (1,126); Dayton State Hospital, 1,664 (1,272); Hawthornden State Hospital, 1,552 (1,453); Lima State Hospital, 1,452 (1,072); Tiffin State Hospital, 707 (573); Mount Vernon State Hospital, 568 (536).

Canada, Danes Not Troubled By Salk Shots

NEW YORK (AP) — Canada and Denmark today reported they have vaccinated about 1,150,000 children against polio with Salk-type vaccine. Officials said not a single case of the disease attributable to the serum has turned up.

Canada has inoculated about 750,000 children so far. One post-inoculation case of polio has been reported, but "it was found to have been infected with the virus before getting its first injection," a Federal Health Department spokesman in Ottawa said.

In Denmark 400,000 children have been inoculated. Authorities in Copenhagen said no polio has been reported in the country since the program began five weeks ago.

Canada and Denmark are the only countries outside the United States carrying on programs of mass inoculations.

In some, polio is not a major medical problem. These include Italy, France, Belgium and the Netherlands, although France's Pasteur Institute is developing a vaccine similar to Dr. Jonas Salk's and plans to test it on a sizable scale in about two months.

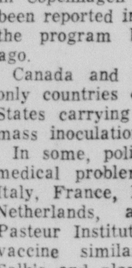

Shortage of the vaccine has delayed some programs. Norway for this reason has postponed indefinitely an ambitious campaign to inoculate all elementary school pupils. Switzerland does not expect supplies from the United States until August and will test it extensively before using it.

News of U. S. difficulties with the vaccine has delayed other programs. Britain's Medical Research Council, which planned test vaccinations, is awaiting a study of safety methods a member of its staff is making in the U. S.

Michigan Girl, 8, Object Of Search

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Long hours of searching by nearly a thousand persons left no clue today to the whereabouts of 8-year-old Jeannie Singleton.

Darkness last night interrupted the hunt for the pert, brown-eyed second grader, but police said they would continue to comb city streets and neighboring woods.

Little Jeannie, her right leg crippled by rheumatic fever, vanished Monday afternoon on her way home from school. Police fear she may have been abducted.

'Girl Mountie' Is Latest Canadian Aid To Tourists

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's editor

Bathing beauties with Geiger counters are a new phenomenon of the Canadian tourist season, says Barbara Lamb, a bright-eyed, pink-cheeked "Girl Mountie" from Ontario.

"It's the newest thing," says Barbara, who heads a group of 50 girls in bright red coats, blue skirts and berets who man 14 reception centers in Ontario, dealing out aid, succor, information and advice to tourists.

"People bring their Geiger counters along with their fishing poles and golf clubs, and then when the fish aren't biting or their golf game is off, they go prospecting for uranium," says Barbara.

"Some of them find it, too. And that's all right with the government, because tourists have the same right to file claims as do residents.

If you plan a prospecting vacation, however, says Barbara, it's smarter to rent your Geiger counter after you get to Canada. Costs less, because of customs duties.

"Most vacationers bring along too many clothes, mostly the wrong kind," says Barbara. "If people would only inquire before they start on a vacation, they would save themselves a lot of trouble.

"Many people planning a trip to Canada think they must bring heavy woolens, when actually what they will need is bathing suits and sun dresses. The southern part of Ontario is the same latitude and climate as northern California, and Toronto in summer is about like New York.

Missing Vaccine Mystery Solved

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The mystery of 140 vials of Salk polio vaccine missing from the local health department has been cleared up. It was found 130 had gone to Meriden and the other 10 were accounted for here. Meriden, one of 29 communities receiving vaccine through New Haven, was given 345 vials instead of its allotted 215.

Union Leaders Chided For Stand

CINCINNATI (AP) — Many union representatives fail to reflect the true spirit of their constituents, says the chairman of the board of Ford Motor Co.

Ernest R. Breech told the Cincinnati chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews that labor-management relations should not be ignored in the work toward brotherhood.

But, he added, "there can be no real understanding where union politics and a drive for greater personal power are allowed to overshadow economic reality."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My problem is my looks. I am not as neat as my husband thinks I should be. He has been going to school the last six years, and in these years he has worked part-time. For three years he had aid from veterans' funds.

Just a year ago he went to work fulltime and since then he has criticized me terribly. Two girls work in his office and they, being single, have more money than I to spend on clothes, of course. Now John points out "your skirt is milk stained, your sweater is faded" and so forth. It is hard to be always immaculate, taking care of four children, the youngest an infant.

My wardrobe consists of two sweaters, two nice skirts, one new suit and four wash dresses which are kept clean. When there is extra money, the children always need something new, and our friends think I've done very well, staying on a budget all these years. It isn't easy, with a growing family.

Open Charge Account?

My morale is very low, though I wish it wasn't; and I feel like opening a charge account at one of the nicer stores, but I know we can't afford it. My hair is shampooed twice a week and set every night, and, in the opinion of my friends, I am a neat person. Do you think I deserve John's criticism? Maybe I shouldn't resent it, but I do.

I would appreciate a nice frank answer from you. Both John and I are 30 years old.

D.R.

Does Critic Offer Help?

DEAR D. R.: Somebody ought to tell John to "put up or shut up" as regards to your clothes. What is he doing to give your appearance a lift? Is destructive criticism his only contribution? If so, his attitude is inexcusable.

If he sees your sweater is faded, or your skirt milkstained, he should hold his tongue, unless he is graciously disposed and actually able to help you remedy these conditions. Is he making any personal sacrifices, to put aside money to invest in your wardrobe?

Is he lending a hand with housework or child care—to allow you some time for rest, recreation or shopping? Or just as a good man's way of being companionable with his wife?

What is he doing to improve your morale and your looks? Does he take notice of your accomplishments, with the house or the children, and praise and encourage your efforts? A man's observant appreciation of his wife's good works is food for her soul, and an incomparable beauty aid. It brightens her complexion, put a light in her eyes and inspires her to happily dress up for him.

Is Man Phony?

May I remind John that his extensive schooling has been largely a waste of life if, in the end, it makes him a phony, who is arrogantly uncivil to a devoted helpmeet, shortly after he begins to draw a fulltime paycheck. A man hasn't learned anything worthwhile if he doesn't know how to give happiness to those of his own household, and to nourish their self-esteem, so that they rejoice in living closely with him.

Frankly, I think it's heroic of you to be trying your best to suit John's standards, when he is doing so little to make that possible. He certainly has no right to undermine your self-confidence with his picayune nagging. If he ever again finds fault with your dress, or contrasts you unfavorably to girls in the office, you ought to bear down on the fact that he is being unfair and unreasonable. Don't let him put you on the defensive.

If you feel like starting a charge account at one of the nicer stores, it might prove constructive, making economies possible in the long run. Furthermore, it seems a justified reaction to John's complaints, and might cause him to view your tired clothes more tolerantly.

M H.

Tighter Parking Regulations Set

COLUMBUS (AP) — Police here plan to tighten enforcement of a city ban on parking within 30 feet of stop sign . The action was taken after an accident in which 10 persons were injured.

Police reports indicated a two-car collision at an intersection occurred after the view of a stop sign was obscured by a parked beer truck.

Commenting on the crackdown, James V. Musick, city traffic engineer said, "We'll catch hell for doing this, but we'll catch more hell if people keep getting hurt."

Columbus Losing Immigration Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Immigration Service has told Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) it will close its Columbus, Ohio, office July 1.

The reason given for closing, Bricker said, is insufficient work in an area of small alien population. The Cincinnati office will be responsible for the Columbus area.

State Patrol In Full Force During Holidays

Effort Being Made To Reduce Number Of Fatalities

Your chances of not seeing a State Highway Patrolman on the highways over the long Memorial Day weekend are mighty slim, Col. George Mingle, the superintendent, warned today.

The State Patrol head said "all manpower and equipment will be utilized to the best advantage over the holidays with the maximum number of men being on patrol duty during the critical hours."

Uniformed personnel will be on "restricted time off" and will report to duty at times which will parmit the maximum amount of patrol duty. The 54 Posts throughout the state will utilize studies made of their areas in order to assign men to duty in the critical areas at the peak traffic periods.

The Patrol will also press its radar equipment, tow airplanes, mobile trailers and jeeps into service over the state. Equipment will be assigned by a pre-arranged plan. However, the entire operation will be mobile enough so that manpower and equipment can be shifted to unexpected areas on a minute's notice," Colonel Mingle said.

Radar equipment will be placed in areas where studies have shown there is excessive speed. "Speed is one of the greatest contributing factors in traffic deaths and we intend to stop speeding wherever possible," the Colonel declared.

* * *

THE MOBILE trailers, which are completely equipped with radio communications, will be stationed at critical traffic locations to provide closer control over congested areas. Also a part of the trailer operations will be safety messages and traffic directions to be broadcast to passing motorists over a loudspeaker system.

The two Patrol airplanes will be assigned to areas known to be "trouble spots" and pilots and observers will attempt to "anticipate serious traffic conditions and inform patrolmen on the ground so they can take action to avert serious situations.

"Although there is no 'get tough' attitude in our plans, we will be on the hgihways in large numbers Friday through Monday in order to prevent as many accidents as possible," Colonel Mingle said. "Many have become better drivers. But there still are motorists who have not learned 'courtesy of the road' —these drivers can expect to be stopped by a patrolman."

Twenty-two persons died in Ohio traffic over the four-day holiday period last year as compared to 26 killed on the same days in 1953. A breakdown of the 1954 figures shows: five killed on May 28, ten on May 29, two on May 30, and five on May 31.

Social Security Aid Is Available For Many Who Were Disabled Before

Seriously disabled people who formerly worked in employment, or self-employment, covered by the social security law, should get in touch with the social security office by June 30, Leonard Garrard, social security representative for Fayette County, announced today.

Garrard pointed out while on his regular trip to this locality, that the people who have been totally disabled for 6 months or longer, and who worked in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law for as many as 5 years out of the 10 years before they were disabled should get further immediate information about this law.

Active military service and employment in the railroad industry may count toward the needed amount of work. By applying to have their social security earnings records frozen, disabled people may prevent loss or reduction of future benefits.

* * *

SOME PEOPLE now receiving old-age insurance payments or who will become eligible for old-age payments in July were disabled for long periods before they reached age 65 and are still disabled. They may start getting larger payments as of July and will get them more promptly if they file an application for a "disability freeze" by June 30.

If the disabled person dies after June 30, the disability freeze can protect his family's rights to survivors payments but only if he had applied for it before death. This reason, it is important for every person who meets the requirements for the "freeze" to apply for it by June 30.

Garrard emphasized that the law protects the social security rights of a worker who is suffering from prolonged total disability but does not pay cash benefits to him before he is 65.

The address of the Columbus social security office is Old Post Office Building at Third and State Streets. If a disabled person is unable to call at the office, he may telephone or someone else may call for him, Garrard said.

Garrard or some representative from the Columbus office is at the Employment Office in Washington C. H. every Wednesday afternoon.

Officers Seeking Former Jailbreaker

Greene County officers have broadcast a "wanted" alarm for Harry J. Ferguson, Jr., 25, Hillsboro, who is wanted for striking his sister, Mrs. Maxine Wallace, Bowersville, in the face with his fist and also hitting her with a board.

His sister asked the Greene County Sheriff to arrest him, but he had vanished when officers reached the scene, and is still at large according to last reports.

Mrs. Wallace was treated by a Jamestown physician.

Ferguson was one of five men who broke jail at Xenia Dec. 26, and when he was arrested the court held he had been jailed illegally, so he was released.

Bank Theft Alarm Is Proven False

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police answering a burglar alarm Tuesday with guns drawn, nabbed a man with a sack of money as he was leaving the Upper Arlington branch of the Ohio National Bank. Then someone told them the alarm was tripped by accident. The man, Leo Campbell, was taking the money to the state liquor store nearby, where he works.

Swimming Class Schedule Set Up

Lessons To Be Given Free at Pool Here

Swimming instruction is to start at the Washington Park pool this year on June 6. And again it will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Green, who will handle virtually all of the personal instruction herself, and in accordance with the standards set up by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Green has just completed drawing up a schedule of classes that she will teach five days a week—no classes are set up for Saturday or Sunday. There is no charge for the swimming lessons, but only those with memberships, either master or associate, are eligible.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday, starting at 11 A. M., will be the swimmer's class for those holding Red Cross intermediate certificates.

On Tuesday and Thursday, starting at 10 A. M., will be advanced classes for those holding Red Cross swimmer certificates.

Every day (except Saturday and Sunday), starting at 10:45 A. M., will be the intermediate class for those holding Red Cross beginner certificates.

Every day (five days a week), starting at 11:15 A. M., will be the advanced beginner class.

Every day, starting at 11:45 A. M., will be the beginner's class.

On Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, starting at 12:30 P. M., will be class for adults.

Mrs. Green said that while the morning classes in general were for children, some adults might take their lessons then if the time is more convenient.

At the end of the season, she said, Red Cross certificates will be awarded to those who pass the tests.

No advance enrollment is necessary—although it would be helpful in planning—Mrs. Green said and added "all they have to do is come to the pool and get into their swim suits.

Jury Duty Shunned For Good Reason

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The registered voter at 5206 Windermere Ave. gave Municipal Court Jury Commissioner Douglas Lathrop this reason why he couldn't present himself for jury duty: "I find that my duties . . . require all of my time and I deeply regret that I cannot appear for jury service in your court." He signed it "Kurtz Kauffman, judge of the Superior Court."

Tito Fears Russian 'Love' May Turn Out To Be Fatal

Editor's note—Tito faces the risk that the Russians might kill him with love. The reunion in Belgrade, bringing Soviet and Yugoslav leaders together after their long quarrel, may give the Russians access to measures denied them in recent years. Some of the possibilities of the reconciliation are discussed in this article, last of a series on the Moscow-Belgrade axis.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, now Soviet premier, once likened President Tito of Yugoslavia to Judas Iscariot. That was the thing to do while the old tyrant, Stalin, glowered over the scene.

But today President Tito says Bulganin, Soviet Communist Boss N. S. Khrushchev, Soviet Trade Expert A. I. Mikoyan and the rest of the Moscow party are "courageous." They go to Belgrade in humility, admitting the genius Stalin was wrong after all. Seeking only friendship, said Khrushchev, the Russians journey to Yugoslavia "with open souls and pure hearts."

In both the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, there are strong indications that anxiety to ease international tensions is in direct ratio to internal distress. In both countries the distress is fairly apparent.

The Soviet economy, with its vast emphasis on heavy industry, is topheavy. The internal Soviet political struggle has not been settled.

The Yugoslav economy remains in poor shape. Like the Soviet Union, it suffers from a lopsided bureaucracy, from failure of agriculture, from inability to provide consumer goods, from growing disaffection among the rising, conservative middle classes as the old Bolsheviks die out.

Either regime would be in grave danger in a new war. Both are passionately interested in neutralism, for slightly different reasons. The Yugoslavs want it because they fear an arms race will lead to war and the end of their regime. The Soviet Union wants it because the growing strength of the western ring around the U.S.S.R. dampens Red enthusiasm for aggressive expansion, politically or otherwise.

Communist Yugoslavia often speaks about peace in words like those of the Soviet party's Pravda. Tito, walking a tightrope, contends he is trying to steer an independent middle course between West and East.

But in the opinion of some competent outside observers, Tito has none too strong a grip on his own party. A big enough push might topple the Croat dictator from his throne, and the push still could come from Moscow. A settlement with the Soviet party could bring to influence and power that group within Tito's party known as the "Cominformists," who never really approved the break with Moscow.

The least Moscow can accomplish by its overtures to Belgrade is to make the West suspect Yugoslavia's loyalties. At the most, Yugoslavia may become another link in a chain of neutralism, beginning with Austria, which the Russians hope will extend from Sweden to the Mediterranean and dent opposition to Red expansionism.

There is risk for Moscow, similar to the risk involved in agreeing to an Austrian independence treaty. There is likely to be a strong effect in the satellite countries, where the Communists under Stalin executed hundreds as Titoists in the past. The U.S.S.R. can be expected to tighten its controls.

The Yugoslavs may reestablish close relations with Moscow. But if they do, Tito can never again feel wholly safe, and he himself has said he will never again be able to trust the Russians completely. He has reason for worry.

In the Balkans there is a feeling that a strong bond exists between Yugoslav and Soviet Army officers. Until 1948 the Yugoslavs' training was wholly Soviet. The general staff is reported to be heavily populated with men who lean toward the Russians, and even those who object to the Cominform cling to the idea that Stalinism did not taint the Soviet Army. Tito is said to be aware of this, but to have regarded it as a form of insurance that his officers would stay immune from Western influences.

Now he may worry about just how immune they are to Soviet influences.

Strangers Talk Informally Just Before Shooting

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—"What's your name?"

Barnett Masters, 24, pondered the impromptu question and replied:

"I don't have a name. I'm a stranger here."

Then he reconsidered and added: "My name is Masters. What's yours?"

"My name is Dink Powell," came the reply.

Clyde McQueen, testifying Tuesday at Powell's murder trial, said there was no argument; no other preliminaries when Masters was shot dead March 12 in a rural restaurant.

He said Powell "drew a pistol from his bosom" and shot Masters on the spot.

Arrest Charges Ruled Too Severe

OMAHA (AP)—Edward E. Kopfle, 23, ran his car into a ditch on a country road and started walking for help. He had hoofed it a mile when deputy sheriffs seeking the owner of the wrecked car, spotted by them on their rounds, caught up.

They handed Kopfle a ticket including a charge of leaving the scene of a property damage accident. But Capt. R. H. Walter said that was going too far and scratched the count. He let stand a charge of having no driver's license.

Man Phones Wife, Then Shoots Self

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—Joseph Guidi, 42, an electrical engineer, telephoned his wife in Bangor, Maine, Tuesay and advised her: "Listen very carefully."

Mrs. Anna Guidi, 38, said that those words were followed by a shot, and then silence.

She telephoned Weymouth police, who went to the Guidi home and found the husband dead of a bullet wound in the head.

Mrs. Guidi and her four children were visiting friends near Bangor.

3 Top Issues Face Steel Industry Men

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Top men of the nation's booming steel industry are in New York today with three immediate worries on their minds: wages, prices, expansion.

They have gathered for the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute. Formal discussions will be on the technical problems and accomplishments of the industry. There'll be assessments of the present boom and its probably life expectancy.

But in the corridors the earnest talk will be of what to do about wages, prices and expansion. What the steel industry does about those three things could help set a national pattern.

Wage talks with the steelworkers union open in a couple of weeks in Pittsburgh. Rumor has it that the union will ask for a wage increase of more than 16 cents an hour. Steel executives here for the Wage talks with the steelworkers union open in a couple of weeks in Pittsburgh. Rumor has it that the union will ask for a wage increase of more than 16 cents an hour. Steel executives here for the meeting will have a chance to compare ideas on how much management should offer. Some believe that when the negotiations are over the settlement will be around 12 cents an hour.

Steel wage talks start after the auto industry's deadline has passed. What happens in Detroit will have a strong effect on the steel talks.

A strike in the auto industry would cut off the steel mills' best customer. Or, a liberal wage increase there as a compromise on the auto union's other demands would be a strong talking point for the steelworkers in bargaining with steel management.

A steel price hike is just as pressing a topic today. Leaders in the industry have said a price increase is necessary, no matter what the outcome of the wage talks next month. They cite rising operating costs.

Their customers, noting the record or near-record earnings that some steel companies reported in the first three months of the year, will hope that the price hike can be held to a small one.

Steel executives in New York today will have a chance to compare views on how big a price hike to plan and how effective customer resistance might be.

The defense program, born of the Korean War, inspired the steel industry to build up facilities to a point where 15 per cent could be marked as reserve for military use if need arose. With military demand now below its former peak, civilian demand has picked up unexpectedly to the point where the industry as a whole is operating at almost full capacity. Some companies are parcelling out certain steel products to their customers. The reserve capacity has disappeared, for the time at least.

Top steel companies have said another round of expansion must be planned. In their talks today steelmen can try to judge how much more the civilian economy is likely to grow and how much more steel it will be likely to demand in the years ahead.

Wages, prices and expansion may be the steelmen's present headaches. But they come at a time of unprecedented prosperity for the industry.

Their institute estimates that production this week will run just a mite under the record tonnage of 2,345,000 turned out in the week of May 9.

The steelmen, if they compare notes on their advance order books, will find that most of these are well filled through the third quarter. And prospects for the rest of the year are bright.

Since the railroads stepped up substitution of diesel for coal-fired locomotives, some plants making cinder building blocks have had trouble getting enough raw material.

Hardshell, Baptist, Pumpkin Chapel, Hi-Hat, Brightshade, Stopover, Julip, Mud Lick Mud Camp, Fishtrap and Pippapass are places in Kentucky, says the National Geographic Society.

Friday and Saturday Are To Be Big Days

Two new Sunoco Service Stations are to be formally opened with a flourish and fanfare here Friday and Saturday.

They are both on the CCC Highway at opposite sides of the city—one on West Court Street at Circle Avenue and the other 1156 Columbus Avenue.

Construction of the two stations, both the last word in modern service station design, has just been completed. Both, too, are equipped with the latest approved lubrication equipment and all of the modern facilities for the convenience and service of the motoring public.

But the formal opnenig—on Friday and Saturday—is to be somewhat of a production with clowns for the entertainment of the kiddies with free balloons and suckers thrown in for a good measure, gifts for the ladies, cokes for everyone and free lubrications.

DICK BOSTER is the dealer in charge of the West Court Street station. He is a native of Springfield but came here from Columbus where he was connected with the Sunoco Oil Co. He served in the Air Force during the second War and just before he returned to the Sunoco Co. in Columbus he was at the Air Force Base in Wilmington for a short time.

He and Mrs. Boster and their daughter, 3, and son, 2, live at 319 North Hinde Street. Mrs. Boster, the former Mary Lois Brown, is a Washington C. H. girl.

Bob Barnett is the dealer in charge of the Columbus Avenue station. He is a native of Canal Winchester. He was connected with the Sunoco Co. in Columbus before he went into the army for three years and went back to his old post after he was discharged last March.

He and Mrs. Barnett and their year-old son live on the Greenfield Pike about six miles south of the city.

Personnel at the Court Street station will include Maurice Browder, Jim Wood and Eldon Brown and at the Columbus Avenue station Glenn Barnett and Joe Craft.

He Puts Garbage Can In Window

DETROIT (AP) — Edward A. O'Brien objected at first when Detroit's Department of Public Works Commission notified him that as a homeowner he'd have to comply with city regulations and buy a garbage can.

O'Brien explained that he's a bachelor and lives alone. He eats all his meals out. He never uses a garbage can.

But the commission held firm, so O'Brien bought a garbage can and stood it in the front window for city officials to see.

"I like everyone to be happy," he said.

Bloomingburg Alumni Banquet Is Saturday

Alumni of Bloomingburg High School today were looking forward to their first banquet and get-together in nine years.

It is to be held at the Country Club here Saturday night. A good sized turnout of "Old Grads" is expected to gather there to renew old friendships, get better acquainted with the families of the former students and enjoy an evening of fellowship.

Dr. Victor Emery is president of the association.

As has been the custom in the past, there will be a joint Sunday school at the Presbyterian Church in Bloomingburg the day after the alumni banquet. The Methodist Sunday school is to be dispensed with Sunday so the Methodists may join with the Presbyterians for the classes which are to start at 9:45 A. M.

The regular worship service is to be held at the First Presbyterian Church, too. It is to start at 11 A. M. with Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, delivering the message.

Texas First Lady Suffers Mumps

The Shivers family began its bout with the disease three weeks ago when Marialice Sue (Cissy) Shivers, 8, contracted it.

Neither the governor nor the three Shivers sons have had the mumps, a mansion spokesman said, but the governor was confined Tuesday with what doctors said was a "light case of influenza."

Shivers was expected back in his office today.

Women's Clubs Lauded By Ike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— President Eisenhower has commended the General Federation of Women's Clubs for its efforts to increase international good will.

Eisenhower said it is particularly impressive that through their generous contributions for overseas relief, the clubwomen have demonstrated their friendship for women of other nations.

The General Federation, the world's largest organization of women, has 11 million members, half in clubs in this country and the remainder in affiliated clubs in 33 foreign countries.

Loretta Young Reported Better

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) — Loretta Young is winning her six-week bout with peritonitis, an inflammation of an abdominal membrane, her friends report. She is still in St. John's Hospital here, but a close friend said she gained six pounds in the last week and "would have been out of the hospital now if she hadn't been so tired."

Kids From 10 Nations Live Together In Camp In Ohio

OLIVE BRANCH, Ohio (AP)—Near this cross-roads town whose name symbolizes peace, boys and girls from 10 nations are learning to live and play together.

They form the Children's International Village, dedicated to the proposition that lads and lasses from all over the world have similar interests, especially the interest of peace. All the 20 girls and 21 boys are 11 years old.

The campers from Argentine, Brzil, British Hondouras, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicarauga, Mexico, Sweden, Venezuela and the United States follow a regular camp schedule of nature study, arts and crafts and sports and swimming. In the evenings, they sing and dance their native songs. All the countries are represented by four boys and girls, except Mexico which has an extra youth. Each group is accompanied by an adult.

Children's International Village was founded in 1951 when Dr. Doris T. Allen, Cincinnati psychiatrist, and her husband, Eratus Allen, attempted to answer the question of their own 11-year-old child of "why we have to have war." Similar "villages" have been held in Sweden, Germany and Finland. The village in Clermont County is backed by the contributions of private citizens and industrial firms.

"Here is a demonstration that children from all over the world can get along together," said one of its strongest supporters, Mrs. Dorothy Dolby, vice mayor of Cincinnati.

Homer Eddington, former member of the football coaching staff at Ohio State and Kent State universities and former athletic director at Chillicothe, Ohio, is director of this year's camp. He was assistant director at the first camp and is invited to assist at an international village later in the summer at Hamburg, Germany.

"International understanding here is put on a personal basis," Eddington said. "A little boy from Norway told me he no longer thinks of 'Mexicans,' or 'Americans,' or 'Germans' but of the boys and girls he knows by names from these countries."

Eddington said he believed there is a great carryover in late yeas of the intenational undestanding they obtain through living, eating and swimming and talking together.

"This," he said, "is a necessary step towards peace."

Alabama Studies New Tax On Ads

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Bills designed to preserve segregated schools in Alabama and provide a 3 per cent tax on all types of advertising were introduced yesterday in the Alabama House.

The proposal by Rep. James Dement would levy a tax on advertising in newspaper, magazines, periodicals, signs, billboards, and on radio and television stations.

The tax would be based on gross receipts from such advertising and proceeds would be earmarked for the state's elementary schools. A companion bill provides that "no white or colored child shall be compelled to attend a school where the races are comingled."

County Receives Official's Estate

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Even in death H. B. Fife remembered the people who kept him in office 40 years.

His estate, valued at more than $250,000, will go to Hardin County, where he served as judge, magistrate, sheriff and deputy sheriff.

The will stipulates that income from the estate should go for road building, construction of an airport, a county jail or courthouse. The principal must be held in trust by the county.

Fife, who died May 15 at 82, never married. He had only one known survivor, a niece living in New York City.

West Sees Some Dangers In Visit of Russians To Tito

Editor's Note — How far can Tito move toward Moscow and yet retain the benefits he enjoys from his relationship with the West? What has he to fear from Moscow? These are part of Tito's dilemma as he awaits a Soviet delegation ready to confess Stalin was wrong in outlawing Tito as a renegate communist. William L. Ryan discusses the prospects in this second of three articles.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

President Tito, looking like an American banker in his trim, dark suit, was bristling with annoyance when I saw him last.

His anger seemed added evidence that, if the matter was one for Tito alone to decide, there would be no full family reconciliation with the Cominform. The big question remained, however, whether it would be a matter for Tito alone to decide.

The target of Tito's anger was Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov. At the time Georgi Malenkov was deposed as Soviet premier, Molotov made a speech. Touching on Yugoslavia, Molotov hinted—just hinted—that Yugoslav Communists were sorry for their past deviations.

Speaking to his parliament, Tito, growing gray, portly and florid, lit into Molotov for such innuendo. Molotov, he indicated, was trying to push the notion that Yugoslavia's moves toward normal relations with Moscow betrayed a willingness to "correct" past errors of dogma. This sort of thing, said Tito, was "nonsense," throwing doubt on the sincerity of other statements by Eastern leaders.

There was an implication in this that during the Malenkov regime, Tito won his battle with Moscow, that his price for full normalization was an open Moscow admission that Stalin had been wrong from the start in his feud with Belgrade. Molotov's speech thus seemed to indicate that, with Malenkov gone, Moscow was reneging on the deal.

Thus it is a matter of note that Moscow's delegation to Belgrade, ostensibly asking that bygones be bygones, does not include Molotov. He is a reminder of the Stalin era, when Yugoslavia was outlawed.

Evidence at hand indicates Tito will not "redefect" completely to the East. He was educated by Moscow. He would know the risks involved.

But Western observers detect some danger. They suspect a division in the Yugoslav Communist party and that a large number of Yugoslav Communists would be happy to collaborate closely with Moscow again.

What about the ties with the West, the arms and the economic aid which came from the West? Here is one view:

"The arms we receive from the West? What of it? This is sent to us by the workers of America and England and not by some capitalists seeking to exploit the people. This material is sent not for use against the people of Russia, but against the exploiters of the workers everywhere."

Belgrade's Communists will tell you Yugoslavia is Communist and will remain that way. As for arms aid, the reaction one gets is that the Yugoslavs did not ask collaboration with the West if the West wants it, the West must accept the regime and what goes with it.

It is against such a background that the Soviet Union carries its peace offensive to Belgrade with visit by three of the most important Moscow rulers.

Fatal Accident Rates Reduced

Present Year May Be Headed For Record

Not a single traffic fatality has occurred in Washington C. H. for six years, a check of the records reveals, and police say unesitatingly that this is largely due to reasonable enforcement of the traffic laws, particularly with reference to speed and reckless driving.

Few cities in Ohio or in fact the United States, hold such a record of no traffic fatalities.

During the year 1954, there were 97 cities in Ohio which reduced fatal accidents of all kinds, largely due to enforcing traffic laws.

This announcement is made by Henri Marc, president of the Ohio State Safety Council, who has released a list of cities which won the council's accident reduction awards.

Columbus led Group I cities (over 200,000 population) with a 28.6 percent reduction. Akron had the lowest casualty rate in the group—30.51 deaths per 100,000 population.

The Group II (50,000 to 200,000) race was nose to nose, Lima edging Lakewood by 0.3 percent, having a 35.7 percent improvement. Lakewood's casualty rate—18.46—was best in the group.

Middletown had the best improvement—62.2 percent—and the lowest rate 13.80 in Group three (30,000 to 49,999).

Group four (20,000 to 29,999) was dominated by Shaker Heights with a 61.6 percent reduction and the low rate of 17.30.

Campbell had Group five honors without much threat from other cities in the 10,000 to 19,999 bracket. It was the largest city to record no fatal accidents, having a reduction of 100 percent.

Eleven cities under 10,000 population escaped fatalities during the year. Fairborn was the largest, consequently it will receive the Group VI award. Deer Park, Toronto, Uhrichsville, Mayfield Heights, Bryan, Lockland, Port Clinton, Logan, Wyoming and Medina — each without a fatal accident, are ranked according to population.

Marc explained that cities are grouped according to the latest population estimates of the division of vital statistics. Rates are based on fatalities of every kind within the respective Municipal Health Districts. Awards are granted for the greatest reduction in casualty rates.

The safety chief said that 1954 was Ohio's safest year — 54.21 deaths per 100,000 population. All types of fatalities are lower still this year, indicating that a new record may be in the making.

Monday Declared To Be Prayer Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has proclaimed Memorial Day Monday as a day of nationwide prayer for peace.

Acting under a congressional resolution to set aside a day for that purpose, the President designated the hour beginning in each locality at 11 a. m. as a period in which citizens "may unite in beseeching God to guide the world into the ways of peace."

The proclamation said Memorial Day each year serves as a "solemn reminder of the scourage of war and its bitter aftermath of sorrow," and is traditionally devoted to paying homage to those who have lost their lives in war.

U. S Population Near 165 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's population is due to reach 165 million Friday morning.

The census clock, a large board with a map of the United States and a clock hand indicating total population, ticks off a net increase of one person each 12 seconds.

This is done by combining estimates, based on statistics that there is a birth each 8 seconds, a death each 21 seconds, an immigrant arrives each 2 minutes and an emigrant departs each 24 minutes.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, would just once explain publicly the difficulties with the antipolio vaccine, some of the confusion might be removed.

Scheele and the health service from time to time have issued statements, as confusion piled upon confusion, but no layman could understand what, if anything, was wrong with the vaccine or why the program has ground to a virtual stop.

In the 44 days since the government first okayed use of the vaccine, this has happened:

1. The government stopped use of the vaccine, then cleared some of it but not enough to keep the inoculation program going very long.

2. At least 92 vaccinated children have come down with polio, 60 of them after receiving vaccine made by the Cutter Laboratories, of Berkeley, Calif.

3. Scheele has met repeatedly with groups of advisers—his own specialists, outside polio experts, representatives of the six licensed vaccine manufacturers—and so far as the public can see the program is still up in the air.

4. Although the government in April withdrew all Cutter vaccine it has not yet said what if any connection there is between the Cutter vaccine and the polio which developed in 60 children who received it.

5. A split occurred Wednesday night between one manufacturer—and perhaps all six of them—and the health service after it laid down new testing standards.

Some dates tell the story:

April 27—After several children vaccinated with the Cutter product came down with polio, the government withdrew all Cutter vaccine.

May 7—After more vaccinated children developed polio, Scheele called a halt to all vaccinations so his experts could check the laboratories of the manufacturers.

May 13—Scheele approved release of some batches—after his men had checked the plant—of vaccine made by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

May 15—Scheele gave similar approval to some batches made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis.

May 18—The health service delayed the release of vaccine by all other manufacturers for "some days." None of it has been released since.

May 24—The health service said all vaccine "already used or recleared" for use had been found safe with the possible exception of two out of the nine batches made by Cutter.

Scheele said there was "strong presumptive" evidence of a connection between the Cutter vaccine and the polio which developed in some children who received it.

He stopped short of saying positively there was a direct connection. When would the government release more vaccine? Scheele was asked that question May 24. He said he couldn't answer when he'd have information on that.

May 25—The health service laid down new testing standards for manufacturers. At least one of them—an official of the Parke, Davis Co.—said he could not accept the standards as presently written.

Farm Boy Pitching Find Unafraid Of Major League

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Bruce Swango,a broad-shouldered farm boy pitching discovery, joined the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday full of confidence and apparently unafraid of his big jump from high school to the major leagues.

Swango's high school record sounds like something an author might dream up for a novel. And the way he talks about it smacks of the great Dizzy.

When he was signed to a bonus contract last Sunday, it was reported Swango was to receive $30,000 in indicements and salary over a three-year period.

But Bruce — as he prefers to be called — straightened those preliminary estimates out in short order, explaining that his pay for those three years will amount to $36,000.

The plain - spoken kid also hastened to correct a slight exaggeration of himself. He said he is not as fast as Bob Turley, the New York Yankees' fireballer. That's how Swango was described by centerfielder Mickey Mantle of the Yankees when the New Yorkers were dickering for his services. Bruce admitted he is "pretty fast" as a grin crept across his square-jawed countenance. "I struck out an average of 17 batters for each seven-inning game, so I guess I might throw pretty hard."

Swango fanned 21 batters in one game and 22 on another occasion "because the catcher couldn't hold the ball and I had to fan an extra hitter."

Bruce said he wasn't sure but he thought he hurled "three or four" no-hitters and about four one-hitters. When not pitching he played the outfield and batted a modest .450 as a left - handed swinger. He batted in the clean-up spot — naturally.

The barrel-chested youth, who looks like a football player, said he didn't play football in high school because the school didn't have a team. He did play basketball. His scoring average — a mere 55 points a game in his last two years, he said.

The 5-foot-11, 190-pound youngster said he chose to sign with the Orioles "because it looked to me like the quickest way to make the major leagues."

"Besides," he added, "the Orioles made me the best offer."

Then, again endeavoring to straighten out previous reports, Bruce explained to newsmen that wasn't right that just seven major league clubs had scouted him. Fifteen was more like it, he said, with Cincinnati the only team which didn't offer him a feeler.

Fort Wayne Open Draw 100 Entries

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., opened defense of his title in the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open golf tournament today against a classy field of nearly 100 contenders.

Gene Littler, top money winner this year with more than $21,000, headed the list of challengers in the sixth annual tourney on the Elks Country Club's gullied 6,555-yard course. The 72-hole test will continue through Sunday.

Mims Is Awarded Decision In Bout

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Counter-punching Holly Mims of Washington floored Charley Green of Los Angeles in the first round last night round knockdown to win a unanimous decision in their 10-round televised bout here.

Mims, fourth ranked middleweight, caught Green, a stablemate of champion Bobo Olson's, with a left hook in the first round and the West Coast fighter took an eight count. Green, whose nose started bleeding in the fifth, then put on a hot rally in the ninth that sent Mims sprawling through the ropes for a nine count.

Judge Fred Connell saw it 53-47, Judge Howard Hess 54-46 and Referee Dick Young 52-48, all for Mims.

Cops Chase Man Hour In Boats

WARWICK, R. I. (AP)—For more than an hour yesterday two boats equipped with outboard motors raced at high speed around Narragansett Bay.

After 25 miles one boat ran out of gas and the other caught up with it.

The second boat was manned by state conservation officers, the first by William D. Caswell Jr., 25, of Bristol, who was arrested for fishing illegally. He pleaded guilty later and was fined $50.

Indiana Seeking 4th League Title

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Indiana, beaten only once in dual matches this season, today aims for a record-matching fourth straight tennis title in the annual Big Ten championship meet at Northwestern's courts.

Northwestern set the record string from 1947 through 1950.

2 Old Pros Give Youths Pacing Lesson

COLUMBUS — A couple of old pros, who once battled each other over a two-day period to decide the year's richest pacing race, have thrown a monkey wrench into the nation's free-for-all pacing picture.

Meadow Rice and Wilmington's Star fashioned upsets at Roosevelt and Rosecroft Raceways last week that have been heard 'round the harness racing world.

Victims of the twin-barreled assault were the two young "wonder horses" of the fast class pacing ranks, Adios Harry and Adios Boy.

At Roosevelt Raceway, Meadow Rice took on Adios Harry and two others in a four-horse event. Meadow Rice, driven by Jimmy Jordan for owner W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky., broke the brief but impressive winning streak of the Delaware sidewheeler in 2:00.3, fastest mile of the season over a half-mile oval.

Adios Boy, rated the free-for-all "Horse To Beat" in a pre-season poll conducted by the U. S. Trotting Association, made his debut at Rosecroft in Maryland but came a cropper in Wilmington's Star who won in 2:08.4 for 1 1-16 miles.

Wilmington's Star is owned by R. L. Craig of Urbana, and was driven by Eddie Taylor.

Meadow Rice and Wilmington's Star are both familiar figures in pacing ranks. In 1952 they met in the $60,000 Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Wilmington's Star won the first heat and then, after rain forced a halt to proceedings that day, Meadow Rice came back the following afternoon and closed out the race by winning the next two heats.

Youth, of course, must eventually be served, on the harness tracks as elsewhere, but for the moment at least the accolades are all for a pair of rugged old-timers who can still throw a pretty good one-two punch.

Ohio FFA Booked For State Parley

The convention at Ohio State University is sponsored by the Ohio Department of Education and the OSU College of Agriculture.

Holiday Fishing Chances Good For Ohioans

COLUMBUS (AP)—Anglers can expect bright prospects for Memorial Day weekend in Ohio.

That's the report of the Ohio Division of Wildlife in its weekly analysis of lakes and streams.

The division reports small mouth fishing in Sandusky Bay may improve some this weekend. It says some perch and crappies are being taken at Battery Park. Some catfish have been taken.

Elsewhere in Ohio, the outlook includes:

NORTHWESTERN: Inland lake fishing is good, with the best at Oxbow in Defiance and East Harbor in Ottawa County Lakes and streams are clearing, and the weekend outlook is good.

SOUTHEASTERN: Outlook for the weekend is good. Fine catches are reported in Hocking River in Athens and Hocking counties, the Walhonding in Coshocton and Burr Oak in Morgan, as well as in larger lakes such as Piedmont, Seneca, Clendening and Tappan.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN: All streams are in good condition with the exception of those in Adams, Lawrence and Gallia counties, with many smallmouth bass being taken. Rocky Fork Lake in Highland is clear in the east portion, but cloudy in the west. Some muskies, along with good catches of bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish, are reported. All Franklin County streams are clear as are those in Fayette, Fairfield, Knox and Morrow counties. Weekend outlook is good.

SOUTHWESTERN: Best fishing in state is offered here, in both lakes and streams. Better than average catches of bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish are reported from the entire district. Outlook is excellent for all species.

No Steering Wheel

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — A safety checkup revealed Harry Bacon's car had no steering wheel, only a horn ring. "The wheel came off so I use this," Bacon explained. He was ordered not to drive until he gets a new wheel.

Chicago Cubs Doing Wonders With Nothing

Manager Stan Hack Just Keeps Shifting His Players Around

The Associated Press

The Chicago Cubs put you in mind of the folks who were too poor to paint and too proud to whitewash. They've simply been getting the job done with what little they have.

Manager Stan Hack, making infielders into outfielders, gets hits when he needs them from a bunch of guys hitting only .237 as a team. And without hauling in a load of newcomers, he's been getting great pitching from a staff that used to be barely adequate.

That's the way it was again Wednesday as the Cubs swept a double-header from the St. Louis Cardinals and climbed into second place in the National league, six games back of Brooklyn.

Paul Minner, who hadn't worked since May 6 and hadn't won since April 22, came up with a four-hitter, and rookie Bob Speake, an infielder now roaming the outfield, chipped in his sixth home run to win the opener 1-0.

It was the fifth shutout of the season for the Cubstaff—tops in the NL.

Veteran Bob Rush, with just one winning season in the majors, took charge in the nightcap, keeping the Cards 'imp with a two-hitter to win 3-1. He had a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a home run by Eddie Miksis (another outfield convert from the infield), a triple by Gene Baker and Speake's double. The Cards' run came on a homer in the ninth by Rip Repulski. Chicago has won six of its last seven.

That pushed the Cubs ahead of the New York Giants, who slipped to third while losing a twi-night pair at Philadelphia 8-3 and 5-2. The Giants now have lost three in a row after winning six straight.

In the American, New York's Yankees beat Washington 6-2 on Yogi Berra's three-run homer and a three-hitter by Bob Turley, who won his eighth decision in nine starts. The victory widened the Yanks' lead to 1½ games. Rain postponed Chicago at Cleveland.

Fourth-place Detroit peppered Kansas City 8-2 and Boston won the nightcap 5-2 in a twi-nighter at Baltimore after dropping the first 6-2.

Robin Roberts was smacked for four extra-base blows in the five hits he allowed the Giants in the opener, but was tough in the clutch to gain his sixth victory. The second-game success, which pulled the Phils out of the cellar while Pittsburgh dropped in, went to Murry Dickson with the relief help of Johnny Meyer. Del Ennis smashed a three-run homer as the Phils scored four in the first to beat Johnny Antonelli in the nightcap.

It was in the bag after Berra teed off against loser Maury McDermott in the first. Ed Fitz Gerald's low liner evaded Mickey Mantle in center for an inside-the-park homer and both Senator runs.

Baltimore slugged 12 hits—three by Billy Cox and two each by Gene Woodling and Hal Smith—to win the twilight opener from Boston. Then Ike Delock snared his fourth victory by five-hitting the Orioles. Lou Kretlow added a wild pitch to four Boston singles in a three-run third that wrapped up the nightcap.

Frank Lary got 14-hit support, including homers by Fred Hatfield and Bill Tuttle, while scuttling Kansas City on six hits. Ray Herbert, late of the Tigers, was the loser.

Warren Spahn, a 20-game winner in six seasons, was handed his sixth defeat by Cincinnati as the Redlegs went off on an 18-hit romp while Art Fowler won in relief. Spahn left after two innings, trailing 3-0.

'Peter Perri' Mystery Man In Ring Probe

That name appeared on a document introduced yesterday at the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission's hearings on the May 6th fight between Philadelphia boxer Harold Johnson and Cuban Julio Mederos.

The commission has charged that Johnson was drugged prior to the fight which he lost on a TKO when he was unable to answer the bell for the third round and had to be carried from the ring on a stretcher.

The document introduced yesterday bore the signatures of Perri, Tommy Loughrey, Johnson's manager of record, and Johnson. The commission said the contract, dated December 1948 showed that Johnson had two managers, a charge denied vehemently by Loughrey.

Loughrey jumped to his feet and shouted.

"I never saw it before. It's ridiculous. Tear it up and put it in the wastebasket. You're wasting your time."

Jeff Is Best on Paper But Tied for SWO Lead

Jeffersonville shares the top spot in the SWO League after the first four games of the season — and no wonder. In batting, the Jeff team average is a whopping .344. And Jeff's number one pitcher, Bucky Dumford, leads the league with lowest earned run average of 2.08 per game.

Tied for first place in the league is Good Hope. The Wayne Township team has a batting average of .287, and pitcher Bob Dawes has an earned run average of 2.67.

Jeff has a test coming in Sunday's game, when it will meet Mt. Sterling, the giant killer. Last week, Mt. Sterling knocked previously unbeaten Good Hope off its high horse — and did it from a spot at the bottom of the heap.

The Mt. Sterling — Jeffersonville game will be played on the Mt Sterling diamond. Good Hope will see action on the Blanchester diamond in Wilmington and Milledgeville is slated to play on the Washington C. H. team's home diamond at Bloomingburg.

The three games, all set for 2 P. M. Sunday, may break up the three ties that have bunched the league standings. With six teams in the running, none is lower than third place. Odd, eh?

The first place teams, Jeff and Good Hope, both have records of three wins and a single loss. Blanchester and Washington C. H. share the number two spot with 2-2 records, and Milledgeville and Mt Sterling are splitting third place with 1-3 marks.

The five top hitters of the league, all with averages of .500 or better, are Bob Alkire of Jeff, Wayne Joyce of Blanchester, Charlie Dawes of Good Hope, Bucky Dumford of Jeff and Lloyd Davis of Blanchester.

Horse Racing Bill Dropped By House

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio House yesterday voted, 94-20, to strike out an amendment to a horse racing bill. The amendment would have prohibited day running races and night harness races on the same day within 30 miles of each other or within the same county.

The Senate refused to accept the amendment Tuesday and the House then agreed to drop it.

Cool Weather Cuts Turnout At Ladies Day

Cool weather discouraged some of the gal golfers and cut the usual ladies day turnout at the Country Club Wednesday somewhat but apparently it was a tonic for some of those who hit the fairways.

For, Mrs. Dwight Coffman turned in a best-ever 54 to take the low score prize and Mrs. Bill Junk carded a 55 for one of her best rounds in many a day.

Mrs. Charles Buxton recorded the lowest actual score of the day and the lowest of the season for a woman when she toured the course in 47 strokes. She had the low net score of 38 with a handicap of 9.

Four tied for second place were Mrs. Elmer Reed with 67-28 for 39, Mrs. Paul Pennington with 69-30, for 39, Mrs. R. Newhouse with 66-27 for 39 and Mrs. Mac Wilson with 72-33 for 39.

Mrs. Buxton took putting honors with 15 strokes on the greens. Mrs. Junk and Mrs. Max Thomas were tied for second place with 17 apiece.

Other scores for the day were Mrs. Robert Link 74-34-40; Mrs. Wayne Shobe 59-19-40; Mrs. Howard Osborne 74-33-41; Mrs. Joseph Herbert 78-37-41; Mrs. Francis Boyle 66-26-40 and Mrs. J. O. Garringer 62-21-41; Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roszmann were co-hostesses and Mrs. Scott Harner and Mrs. Francis Boyle are to be the hostesses for next Wednesday's Ladies' Day.

Indians Slated For Double Bill

CLEVELAND (AP) — A rain-out last night put the Cleveland Indians in a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox today.

The Indians, who have lost six of their last nine games, are only a half-game ahead of third-place Chicago. If they don't get at least a split today they'll drop to third themselves.

Spartan Slugger Wins Big 10 Title

CHICAGO (AP) — George Smith, Michigan State second baseman, was certified today as the 1955 Big Ten batting champion with a .485 average in 10 games.

Sleepy Merchant Fooled By Youth

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Wade Plyler, owner of Dill's Truck Stop, woke up about 5 a.m. to the sound of breaking glass. Looking out a rear window, he saw a youth who motioned violently to him to go to the front of the establishment. Fire, traffic accident, thought Plyler as he obeyed. When he returned the youth was gone. So were some goods.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Hot, and Very Hot, Peppers

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

THERE are quite a few varieties of hot peppers, some hotter than others. Two most frequently grown in home gardens are shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. They are Hungarian Wax, a light yellow becoming red, and Long Red Cayenne, which is very hot and pungent.

The Red Chili peppers also are grown in many home gardens. They are small but what they lack in size they make up in being extra hot and pungent

Pepper plants do not require much room. Therefore they can be grown in small gardens without crowding other plants. They are practical, often necessary, for flavoring sauces, or for pickling purposes and for relishes.

The plants will thrive on relatively poor soil, though a moderately rich, sandy loam suits them best. Sometimes fair crops can be grown on heavy clay. The plants must have good drainage. Too rich a soil will grow large plants with few fruits.

Peppers require a long season to develop fruits. Therefore it is not practical to make successive sowings. Plant varieties maturing in succession to ensure a constant supply.

Peppers are good for you because they are high in vitamins. Green peppers are an important source of vitamin C. Red peppers are an important source of vitamin A, as well as C.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Bands Lay Plans For Parade Here

Junior WHS Band At Bloomingburg Too

Both of the Washington C. H. High School bands—the Junior Band and the Varsity Band—are to be in the band room at 9:15 A. M. Monday in uniform and ready to form ranks and step out promptly at 10 o'clock for the Memorial Day parade, Bandmaster William B. Clift said.

There will be around 80 boys and girls of the Junior High School in the Junior Band and around 100, plus the drum major and majorettes, in the Varsity Band.

There may be some shifting around to fill up the ranks, but not much Clift said. He explained that some of this year's seniors in the Varsity Band had already turned in their uniforms and would not march in the parade. He added, however, that most of them would be in there, taking advantage what could well be their last opportunity to wear the blue and white uniforms that have meant so much to them through high school.

* * *

SOME OF THE Junior Band members may be moved up into the Varsity Band and some youngsters from the elementary school band may be moved up to fill the gaps in the Junior Band, Clift indicated.

Both bands will march in the parade to the Washington C. H. and St. Colman's Cemeteries here in the morning and then the Junior Band is to report back to the high school (Paint Street entrance) at 1 P. M. where they will be taken by busses to Bloomingburg to lead the parade from the center of the village to the cemetery. The parade route in Bloomingburg is not nearly so long as the one here.

Whatever the bands get for furnishing the parade music goes into the band fund which is used for just about everything from buying some instruments to uniforms; for the bands are virtually on their own as far as finances are concerned because tax money is not used for this purpose.

Drunk Driving Case Again Being Tried

For the second time a charge against Deloracy Carson of driving a motor vehicle while drunk, was being tried in municipal court before Judge Max G. Dice and a jury.

The plaintiff is represented by Harvey Crow of Cleveland, who was recently disbarred from further practice of law in Ohio but who obtained a stay of execution when he carried the case to the district court of appeals. City solicitor William Junk is attorney for the prosecution.

The charge against Mrs. Carson was filed last November 3, and on Dec. 2 she was tried by a jury and Judge R. L. Brubaker, but the jury disagreed.

A number of witnesses are being heard in the case.

Not only will most of the business places be closed during Monday, Decoration Day, but the Post Office will make no deliveries on that day except special delivery mail. There will be no Monday issue of the Record-Herald.

A spot check of stores and the Retail Merchants Committee showed only a few of neighborhood grocery markets would remain open to take care of emergency needs. Indications were that the drug stores would follow essentially the Sunday schedule and that at least one will be open.

Incurable Disease Kills 2 Sisters

Both were victims of pancreatic cystic fibrosis, the disease which causes the pancreas to function improperly.

This failure, in turn, leads to malnutrition and lower resistance, and the victims succumb to some infection which is the immediate cause of death.

Dr. Carroll Witten said the disease is unusual in one member of a family but "extremely rare" in two members.

House Studies Federal Road Fixup Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over a massive road-building program shifted to the House today after the Senate handed President Eisenhower a sharp setback by passing a Democratic rival to his highway plan.

The Eisenhower plan was beaten 60-31 in the Senate before that body went on to shout its approval of the Democratic measure without a rollcall.

On the decisive test, 13 Republicans deserted the administration while only one Democrat, Kennedy of Massachusetts, supported the President's proposal.

The Democratic measure would set in motion, subject to actual appropriations, a five-year $18 billion highway spending program, one of the biggest nondefense projects ever sparked by federal funds.

It would be designed to improve and modernize all of the nation's road systems—from major superhighways linking up all parts of the nation to farm-to-market country roads in every state.

• • •

OF THE TOTAL, the federal government would put up about $12.6 billion and the states $5.4 billion.

Federal grants for roads in the first year of the program, the financial year starting July 1, 1956, would double present outlays. By the fourth and fifth years, they would be triple.

The federal share would be financed by direct outlays from the Treasury through regular appropriations. This would tend to swell the present federal deficit, and is a chief administration objection to the bill.

The key feature of the Eisenhower plan was a $21 billion bond issue outside the debt limit, to be repaid by earmarking excess gasoline tax revenues for 30 years.

But this in turn was the point of heaviest attack by Democrats. Sen. Byrd (D-Va) called it the most unsound financing scheme proposed in his 22 years in the Senate.

In all, the administration proposal called for a $38 billion federal-state program over 10 years, with most of the emphasis on the 40,000-mile system of interstate superhighways.

Holiday Traffic Death Toll May Be Close To 360

CHICAGO (AP)—The death toll in traffic accidents during the three-day Memorial Day weekend, the National Safety Council estimates, may reach 360.

The council estimates that some 40 million motor vehicles will be on the nation's highways during the holiday period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Traffic deaths for the three-day holiday last year totaled 362.

Three ministers will conduct a 25-minute funeral service for the 360 persons who the Safety Council predicts will be killed over the Memorial Day weekend.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

I have had several calls regarding tulip poplars in the city, all of them about comparatively small trees except one.

I mentioned the big tulip poplar at the intersection of Broadway and Hopkins Street as the largest I had noticed within the city, but I received an anonymous letter (and no one likes anonoymous letters, and I usually throw them in the waste basket) calling attention to a large tulip tree at a lot at the corner of Oak Street and South Hinde Street, which is said to be 22 inches in diameter near the ground.

So far as I know, it is the largest tulip tree within the city.

Plans Made for Memorial Day Observances

Flag-lines streets and band music will mark Memorial Day in the city and in towns across the county, but that will be only half the story.

Hundreds of friends and relatives of men who died in the service of their country will observe the day more quietly and more sadly. Graves in the county's dozens of cemeteries will be decorated with flowers and flags as Fayette Countians remember their dead.

Special Memorial Day services will be held Monday in four communities, Washington C. H., Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville and New Holland. In each, observances will include a parade and commemorative services in cemeteries.

The music of two bands will mark the tempo as 19 units, most of them colorfully dressed in full uniform, march through the city Monday morning.

The parade will wind through the city to the Washington C. H. and St. Colman cemeteries, where special Memorial Day services will be held.

Slated to start from Market Street at 10 A. M., the parade will move down Market to Hinde Street, from Hinde to Court Street and on out Court to the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Following services there, the parade will move on to St. Colman's Cemetery on Elm Street.

The bands will be the Junior and Varsity music-makers from WHS. Among the units in the parade will be the men and women of the city's veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries.

The parade will be so big that it must be assembled in two sections, according to the parade marshall, Robert Jefferson. He will have charge of putting it together following plans laid out by Francis Morgan, commander of the Paul H. Hughey Post of the American Legion. The Legion has charge of the parade this year as in the past.

"All the units are to assemble where they're assigned," Jefferson said. "The police want to keep Fayette Street open for the usual heavy Memorial Day traffic, so please don't get confused and go to Fayette Street."

The first half of the parade will assemble on East Market Street between Main and North Fayette streets. All the units of the band will line up in the order in which they will march.

Leading off, of course, will be the police cruiser to clear the last stragglers from the line of march. Next will come the American and state flags, borne by the Company M color guard.

Then in order will follow the cars carrying the speakers and the heads of organizations marching in the parade, the Company M firing squad, the WHS Varsity band, Company M and its colors, the O. E. Hardway VFW post and its colors, the Burnett—Ducey VFW post and its colors, the Lawson American Legion Post and its colors, the Paul H. Hughey Legion Post and its colors, the VFW Auxiliary and its colors and the Legion Auxiliary and its colors.

The Junior WHS band will lead off, followed in order by the Boy Scouts, the Cub Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls, a group of girls in uniform, cars carrying those members of the Disabled American Veterans and other veterans who are unabled to walk, and the Company M. jeeps.

Jefferson stressed that any veteran who could not walk would have to call either Edward Jones (9771) or Commander Francis Morgan of the Legion (6481) to reserve transportation.

The services at Washington C. H. Cemetery will be opened with an invocation by a minister as yet unnamed. The main speaker will be Rev. Robert West, an army veteran of World War II who was formerly a missionary in Germany and now is pastor of a church in Illinois.

Services at St. Colman's Cemetery will include the playing of taps and a salute to the war dead by th eCompany M firing squad.

After the parade leaves St. Colman's Cemetery, it will march only a few hundred yards before breaking up.

• • •

BLOOMINGBURG'S parade will set out from the Town Hall at 2 P. M. with the junior WHS band providing the music.

The parade will assemble in front of the hall at 1:30, with the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, the American Legion and its Auxiliary and all veterans on hand. The marchers will move through town to the Bloomingburg Cemetery, where commemorative services will be held on the lot surrounding the soldiers' memorial.

Dr. Paul F. Elliott, pastor of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services, opening with the invocation and delivering the main address. Dr. Elliott will close the services with the benediction.

• • •

THE JEFFERSONVILLE High School band will provide the music for the parade in Jeffersonville. Starting at 1:30, the parade will move from the assembly point on High Street to Maple Street,

Polio Shot Manufacturer Objects To New Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A manufacturer of Salk vaccine said today the government's proposed new production standards would require a "considerable increase" in the volume of tests without assuring a safer vaccine.

Kenneth F. Valentine, president of Pitman-Moore Co., Zionsville, Ind., made that statement when asked what were the objections by manufacturers to the proposed revised standards.

Valentine did not elaborate. An increased volume of tests obviously however, would mean (a) increased costs to the manufacturer and (b) a lengthened production time.

The proposed new standards have not been disclosed.

They were laid before the manufacturers at a meeting yesterday afternoon. The manufacturers raised objections and, as a result, a further session was scheduled for today.

Valentine said all the manufacturers were to meet today with the newly established vaccine clearance panel "to try to see if we can get a meeting of minds."

• • •

THE PANEL, which includes such top polio scientists as Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, was given broad powers in connection with clearance of vaccine.

It also will undertake "continuing review of the manufacturing processes, review testing procedures both by the manufacturers and by the National Institutes of Health, and evaluate plant inspections by the National Institute of Health."

Surgeon General Leonard Scheele announced the appointment of the panel yesterday and also the establishment of new testing standards.

He said, "we are now ready to move ahead," meaning to resume quickly the nationwide polio inoculation program. But the objections from the manufacturers came then as a snag to his hopes.

As the new conferences went ahead today, the health service reported there were 246 new cases of polio last week. This compares with 206 in the preceding week.

Last week's new cases brought the year's total to 2,050, compared with 2,450 in the similar 1954 period. For the "disease year," which starts about April 1, when incidence is at its lowest, the corrected total is 986 for 1955 and 897 for 1954.

They Forgot To Tell Him To Quit Trying

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Nobody told Charlie it was time to quit. They could have seven years ago.

What chance have you when you become paralyzed from the chest down? How can you go to school when you can't walk?

On June 5, he will be graduated with second honors from Speed Scientific School at the University of Louisville and one month later will start on a master's degree.

Obviously, Charlie has come a long way since that day in August 1948 when he and a friend were sleeping in a truck near Ocala, Fla.

Told he would never walk again, Charlie learned to swing himself along on crutches and to operate an auto with hand controls.

In 1951, he re-entered Speed, where he had completed one year of chemical engineering.

Ike Talk Booked

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower will be the first United States Military Academy graduate to make the commencement address there as chief executive. The June 7 speech will be televised by NBC.

Appeal Shelved By City Council

Little Legislation At Regular Session

A number of matters came up for consideration by Council Wednesday night, but legislation was limited because of the absence of two councilmen, Paul VanVoorhis and C. L. Musser who were out of the city.

An ordinance to increase to $100 the fee for tapping city sewers by persons whose property has never been assessed for sewer purposes was placed on its first reading.

The ordinance does not apply to property owners who have already been assessed for sewer purposes.

It also applies to persons who tap private sewers after others have constructed such sewers and paid the expense, but the $100 goes to the persons who built the private sewer.

A resolution authorizing the Ohio Water Service Co. to install three hydrants on Comfort Avenue in the new Belle Aire subdivision was adopted.

A PETITION bearing signatures of all city firemen, asking for a 56-hour week, instead of 72 hours on duty, (including nights spent in the firemen's quarters) was presented, but not discussed at the open meeting.

At the executive session following the regular meeting, the proposal was discussed, but it was indicated that no action would be taken pending outcome of a bill now pending in the Ohio Legislature, providing for 56 hours a week for firemen.

It was also brought out that reduction of the present hours would necessitate employment of two more firemen at a cost of $7,400 per year, and that no funds for the increase are now available.

An ordinance to approve the Belle Aire subdivision No. 3, and repealing one approving such subdivision, passed April 13, but which was found to have been passed without the application being on file the required time, was placed on its first reading.

Application was mad by Mrs. Minnie S. Smith to have Council move a fire hydrant some 13 feet from its present location, so a circle drive could be built on her property at 427 Circle Avenue.

It was indicated that council would not comply with th request.

Thief Specializes On Clerk Offices

GEORGETOWN (AP)—Brown and Adams County authorities today hunted a thief who specializes in county clerks' offices.

Noon-hour roberies yesterday netted a thief $116 from the Brown County clerk's office and $61.20 from the clerk's office of Adams County in West Union, 16 miles to the east.

Bills Aiding Ohio Juveniles Get OK

COLUMBUS (AP)—Two measures vitally affecting school children won approval yesterday in the Ohio Legislature:

1. A bill to clean up comic books and movies sold or exhibited to children under 18.

2. A bill to set up a new distribution system for the state's school subsidy. It is based on a teacher-classroom unit of 30 pupils while the present system is based on the individual child.

Today, the House votes on a bill to restore movie censorship in Ohio.

The bill to clean up comic books and movies intended for children was approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

The measure to set up a new school subsidy formula was passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

The comic book measure would ban sale or distribution to children under 18 publications depicting obscene,unlawful and unusually cruel acts. It also would ban motion picture depiction of acts provocative of crime and child delinquency.

• • •

THE COMIC book-film bill got House approval, 124-3, after considerable debate. Rep. John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin), a cosponsor, said mounting juvenile delinquency creates the need for the ban.

The bill carries a maximum $1,000 fine and six months in jail for violation of the comic book section and up to $5,000 fine and six months in jail for violation of the film section.

The school bill was accompanied by just as much oratory as it sailed through the senate, but, like the comic book bill, the issue never was in doubt. Information before the debate was that at least 16 Republicans and six Democrats would vote for the school bill.

The upshot: 18 Republicans and six Democrats supported it. That gave the measure seven votes to spare.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a measure to require the election of governor and lieutenant governor of the same party.

The constitutional amendment would permit only the ballots of one party to determine the lieutenant governor elected to serve with a governor.

The ballot would be similar to that now prescribed for the President and vice president. One "X" would be valid in casting a vote for both candidates.

Approval by the Senate would give voters at the polls the final say on the proposal. It requires a change in the state constitution to place it in effect.

Court Upholds Tax Equalizer

State Board's Actio.. On Real Estate OKd

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has affirmed the power of the state board of tax appeals to equalize valuations and assessments on real estate in Ohio.

The court yesterday upheld the tax board's approval of a $750,430 valuation on a Cincinnati department store, Rollman & Sons Co., made by the Hamilton County auditor.

The firm had challenged the board's power to sustain uniform assessments made under a statewide equalization program established by the Legislature in 1949.

The court said:

"Where the mode of valuation adopted by the board is reasonably efficient and applies uniformly to all counties, such action is valid."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche Monday vetoed a measure which would have allowed county auditors to appeal to courts on equalization orders made by the tax board.

THE HIGH COURT also backed the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in refusing to allow the Mount Vernon Telephone Corp. a $156,648 yearly rate increase.

The court unanimously upheld a commission order for the Chillicothe Telephone Co. to join with Ohio Bell and Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. in extending to Chillicothe and Portsmouth a private line already linking commercial motor freight offices at Columbus, Lancaster, Newark and Zanesville.

Horrified Dad Sees Child Killed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Horrified, Oliver Newman looked from the front porch of his home beside the New York Central Railroad and saw his 2-year-old daughter Margaret, who had been playing in the yard, sitting in the center of the tracks. A freight train was roaring toward her.

Newman ran toward the tracks, but too late. The train struck his daughter when he was only a few feet away. She was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Ohio's Allocation Of Polio Fund Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A breakdown of the proposed plan for allocating $28 million in federal funds for free polio vaccine for children who can't afford to buy it shows Ohio with 2,650,539 unvaccinated children under 19 years of age.

Seventeen per cent of these children would be covered by federal payments totaling $1,108,295.

Silent Brass Bell Brings Discord in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shiny brass bell, silent itself, produced clanging discord today as the Interstate Commerce Commission set up a ceremony "to commemorate the passing of steam locomotives from America's transportation scene."

These friends insist that coal-burning engines are still very much a part of the railroad picture and that "death and burial services" for them in a government building are highly improper.

Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa) joined a chorus of protest by coal - state congressmen, making an appeal to ICC Chairman Richard F. Mitchell to call off the ceremony, which he described as "a stunt to publicize the diesels."

Among other things, Kilgore demanded to see the vote by which the 11-man ICC had decided to participate in what he described as "an oil-generated hoax."

There was no comment from Mitchell, but aides said the ceremony was still on.

The National Coal Assn. had appealed to President Eisenhower to intervene, questioning "the ethics and legality of using a government building to advertise a particular form of motive power." The White House has made no pronouncements on the subject.

After the protests arose, ICC officials said there was no intention of injuring the coal industry. They noted that between 85 and 90 per cent of all railroad service is now diesel-powered.

The idea of a memorial to the steam locomotive originated with the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad. The Frisco, now completely dieselized, provided a marble and Indiana limestone shaft for Permanent installation in the main lobby of the ICC building. The shaft, inscribed, "In memory of the steam locomotives that served so long and so well," is topped by the retired locomotive bell, polished to a mirror-finish, and embossed with the official ICC seal.

The seven-foot monument was moved into the lobby several days ago and swathed in red velvet, awaiting today's unveiling, to which members of Congress, government officials and of railroad presidents were invited.

14 Towns Lashed And 700 Injured In Vicious Storm

UDALL, Kan. (AP) — The spring's most devastating tornadoes ripped through 14 Kansas and Oklahoma communities last night leaving 77 persons dead and property damage estimated in the millions.

The injury list totaled more than 700.

Hardest hit were Udall in Southcentral Kansas and Blackwell in northern Oklahoma, towns just 80 miles apart. The death toll included 55 in Udall, 15 in Blackwell, 5 in Oxford, Kan., and 2 in Sweetwater in western Oklahoma.

Most of Udall's population of about 750 was left homeless. Approximately 200 persons were injured. In Blackwell, a town of 10,000, some 500 were injured and approximately 36 square blocks devastated.

The Weather Bureau said the Udall twister was the worst killer in Kansas history.

The town was virtually destroyed.

The twisters, the years most devastating, also roared into Texas but apparently caused no deaths there.

However, severe Texas thunderstorms last night may have caused the crash of a huge B36 bomber in rugged ranch country, killing at least nine men aboard.

Udall was virtually destroyed and more than 100 persons were injured. In Blackwell, where the tornado leveled homes and factories in an east side area of about 36 square blocks, some 500 were injured.

• • •

OTHER TOWNS hit included Geuda Springs in south-central Kansas and Erick, Durant, Shattuck, Mayfield, Camargo, Leedey, Taloga, Cheyenne, Deer Creek and Strong City in Oklahoma.

The tornadoes caught the residents by surprise.

"It sounded like a freight train coming through the house," said Johnny Walker, 37, of Udall.

• • •

"THERE WAS an explosion, it seemed like, nd all the windows shattered."

In Blackwell, the Hazel Atlas Glass Co. plant, a two-block factory in the center of the storm's path, caught fire after being flattened. Thirty-five workers on the night shift escaped before the structure collapsed, however.

Bread trucks and other commercial vehicles were pressed into service to speed the injured to hospitals.

First word from a rescue crew that reached the burned out hulk of the six-engine B36 early today was that nine bodies had been recovered. It was reported the plane carried a crew of 14.

The plane crashed as lightning crackled and thunderstorms raged over the West Texas ranching area about 35 miles southwest of Sterling City.

Reds Give Nod To Big 4 Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union formally accepted today an invitation to take part in a Big Four parley at the summit. At the same time it charged the United States was setting up prior conditions "which will doom the conference to failure."

"There is only one explanation," the Soviet Union said in notes to the United States, Britain and France, "namely that the government of the U.S.A. contrary to its declaration does not desire to settle international problems."

The note specifically referred to statements made in Washington concerning relations with the Communist people's democracies in Eastern Europe.

It declared that any attempt to discuss the situation in those countries would be completely inadvisable.

It also said the United States planned to enter the proposed conference with a policy based on "positions of strength."

THE NOTE SAID "all that is being done despite the fact that the futility of such attempts in negotiating with the Soviet Union has been shown in the past."

In an unprecedented step, the Soviet Union included separate sections of its notes to Britain and France which did not appear in the note to the United States. These sections were veiled appeals for France and Britain to support the views of the Soviet against those of the U. S.

"The Soviet government believes France and Great Britain hardly agree that the above mentioned declarations of leading officials of the United States contribute to an appropriate atmosphere for a conference of four powers," it said.

Driver Flunks Signature Test

GEORGETOWN (AP) — Charles Cochran, 25, of Bethel, did well on part of a driver's license examination but flunked the signature test.

He was convicted yesterday in common pleas court of falsification and fraud in attempting to take a test and get a license for his brother, William Cochran, 21, of Cincinnati. Charles' signature did not match William's on a temporary driver's license. Charles was fined $100 and costs.

Bible School Starts Soon

The annual Vacation Bible School is to be opened at the First Christian Church, corner North and Temple Streets, at 9 A. M. Tuesday, Rev. Don McMillin, the pastor announced today.

Mrs. John Callender is superintendent of the nursery department; Mrs. Carl Meriweather of the beginners classes; Mrs. Norman Knisley of the primary; Mrs. Ottice Stookey of the junior and Mrs. Elba Patch of the intermediate department.

Rev. McMillin said the school's program will be "Bible-based, Christ-centered and Church-related."

The daily class schedule will be varied with recreation, worship, object lessons, Bible drills, handiwork and pictures, etc. Both home and foreign missionary work will be used as special projects.

The foreign missionary studies will include the Campbell children in the Philippines — Charlott, Philipp and James.

The school, with classes from 9 to 11:30 A. M. daily, will continue until June 10, Rev. McMillin said.

Plans Made

from there to Main Street and then on out to the old Jeffersonville Cemetery.

The marchers will include, in addition to the band, the boys and girls of Jeffersonville School, the Knights of Pythias, the American Legion and the VFW.

When the parade reaches the cemetery, services there will include addresses by Rev. Don McMillin of the First Christian Church in Washington C. H. and Rev. Norman Newman of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church.

The VFW firing squad will give the salute to the dead and taps will be played.

After services at the old cemetery, the parade will break up, reassembling at Fairview Cemetery for additional services. The same speakers and program are planned at Fairview Cemetery.

At New Holland, the Jeffersonville High School band will be in action, playing the music for the parade that will wind through town from Legion Hall to the New Holland Cemetery.

Slated to start at 3 P. M., the parade will assemble in front of Legion Hall at 2:30 and the marchers will fall in at 2:45. Members of the Arch Legion Post 477, in charge of planning the observance, estimate the parade will take about five minutes to reach the cemetery. The band will open services there with appropriate selections.

Rev. Gene Creamer of the New Holland Cnurch of Christ will deliver the invocation and Rev. J. K. Price of the New Holland Methodist Church will give the Memorial address.

Following additional selections by the band, the Legion firing squad will fire a salute and taps will be sounded. Rev. Creamer will pronounce the benediction.

The parade will then return to Legion Hall by about 3:30, the planners estimate.

Evangelistic Series To Start Next Week

Plans for evangelistic services at the McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 3, 4 and 5, today were just about complete.

Dr. Paul H. Elliott, the pastor, said a gospel team from the Cleveland Bible School will be in complete charge of the services which are being sponsored by the Westminster Fellowship.

Carl Brooks is to deliver the sermons. Assisting him will be Mrs. Brooks and four other students.

This team recently conducted a similar series of revival services at the White Oak Methodist Church. The consensus of the congregation there was that the series was "very inspirational."

Evening services are scheduled over for Friday and Saturday of next week, starting at 7:45 P. M.

On Sunday, June 5, the team is to have charge of the Sunday School, starting at 9:30 A. M., the morning worship service at 10:30 o'clock, a youth meeting at 6 o'clock and the final evangelistic service at 7:45 o'clock Sunday evening.

The services, it was emphasized, are all open to the public and the hope was expressed that there would be a good attendance at all services.

It was not immediately known whether more bodies might be in the still smoldering wreckage.

Goodfellow Air Force Base said the plane was believed to be from Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M.

Even brick and stone buildings in Udall were leveled.

Portable lights were moved into town during the early morning hours to aid rescue crews.

* * *

The twister snapped off telephone poles at ground level and wire criss-crossed the streets. Cars parked in the streets were smashed by falling brick walls.

Rain accompanied the twister and continued to pour down after it had passed.

Police, civil defense workers and highway patrolmen from nearby areas converged on the town to aid the injured and search for dead still in wrecked buildings.

Refugee centers were set up at nearby towns.

Cries of the injured could be heard in the darkness by rescue workers, who swarmed quickly over the wreckage.

Let's Hope Public Remains Sensible On This

With all the comment and a lot of unnecessary criticism regarding the present polio vaccine problems, and how they should be handled, it is vital that the citizens of this community and all over the country, keep a sensible attitude and view the whole question in proper perspective.

Political jitter-bugs of the type of Senator Morse of Oregon, who usually is found on the wrong side of most every question in which he speaks out for temporary political effect, should not be allowed to upset the public or cause any growing alarm which could do great future damage by bringing about public sentiment demand for an unjustified course of action.

For anyone to get into a curbstone "dog fight" with an individual of the type of Senator Morse, would be useless and undignified. We are happy to note that President Eisenhower in his recent statements refused to enter into any debate with Morse who is always "spoiling for a fight" with somebody in the hope of keeping himself in the public spotlight.

Americans must not forget, President Eisenhower suggested, the gratitude they owed to the doctors and the technicians who had made the vaccine a reality.

What is more, said the president, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, whom Senator Morse had criticized, was "merely the agent of these great scientists and doctors" in conducting the government's part of the program. This is a polite and oblique but obvious response to the Morse suggestion that Mrs. Hobby is responsible for the hitches that have developed and ought to be fired for that reason.

It goes without saying that the Eisenhower Administration approached the vaccine issue with its well-known commitments in favor of decentralization and private initiative. But it is hard to see how a rigid government control from the beginning could have averted the main problems that have arisen. Those problems certainly so far as they have been reported and so far as the layman understands them, are scientific problems, laboratory problems.

Thus the first big closedown in the vaccination campaign came with the appearance of scattered cases of poliomyelitis in areas where the Cutter brand of vaccine had been used. This raised the question of whether the Cutter product was adequate. Now a further delay came about so that technicians can perfect their methods of testing the vaccine. In both instances, scientific questions were involved. They had to be handled and are being handled by scientists.

But how could a strong government control have averted these incidents? No matter how rigid, a government control scheme would itself have depended on the counsel of scientists and technicians—the very scientists and technicians who have been in charge anyway. To suggest that as government people they would have transcended the human qualities, including proneness to error, which marks them in their private capacities, does not make common sense.

Jumps To Big Conclusions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Little broad-jumps to big conclusions or snap judgments a guy couldn't prove in court:

If animals had pockets like people, they'd have as many worries, too.

Four out of five times it is more expensive to buy a dinner for a small woman than a large one.

When a girl cozily murmurs "I don't really eat, I just peck at food," you can bet on it that the bird she pecks like isn't a wren but an ostrich.

There are more secret eaters in America than there are secret drinkers.

Some of the most religious people I know also regularly read astrology magazines. In heaven's name, why?

Maturity begins the moment you discover something you want that money won't buy.

Social climbers always remind me of a racetrack bum who won't pick up cigarette butts anywhere except at the $50 window.

Bigotry is the most revolting form of poverty; it is the only sign of snobbery a mental pauper can afford.

A bachelor never knows what he has missed. His married friends don't know what he has missed either. But they do like to guess.

A fellow who is always talking about what he'd do if he had his life to live over again probably doesn't know what real living is anyway.

Most people are too narrow-minded to appreciate a sense of humor in an undertaker.

Aneurin Bevan, Britain's Bad Boy

By George Sokolsky

London, May 21.—Britain's bad boy is Aneurin Bevan, an evangelical, primitive socialist who goes his own way, shattering before him whatever does not fit his concept of life. He is now engaged in splitting his own Labour party which, if it is defeated in this election, could fall apart into three sections. Bevan leading one of them. It is possible both to underestimate and overestimate this man; the significance of his political activity is that he cannot be ignored. The Labour party stands for managerial socialism which is more like the New Deal in the United States. They would have the government controls over the life of the people and government ownership of those phases of the British economy which are monopolistic or tend to become nomopolistic. But they are not ideological marxists, coming closer to a Norman Thomas socialist than to a communist.

The most important economic problem in this country is raising the standard of living of the people. Wages are comparatively low. The average annual income of a typical male clerk or a female stenographer would be about 400 pounds which is about 1150 dollars; the average female industrial worker about 300 pounds or 750 dollars; the average male industrial worker under 21 about 250 pounds or about 600 dollars. This provides a picture of income and purchasing power. Instalment buying is not highly developed and is not encouraged because the fear of inflation is very great.

The Labour party wants wages increased and the standard of living raised by government controls and by what they regard as scientific methods; the Conservatives believe in competition and creating demands for more products by prosperity which depends to a great degree upon an export trade. The Conservatives are impressed by American methods of creating mass consumers and mass production industries. The Labourites, who are socialists, have many reservations about American methods. Both parties wonder what mass production and particularly automation can do to social conditions in a comparatively small country. Aneurin Bevan runs across this discussion with early twentieth Century arguments of the Kier Hardie type which no longer fit the conditions of these times. But what makes little difference because of his emotionalism, his oratory, his stimulation of discontent give him an important following despite full employment and a rising wage scale.

It is to be noted that no improvements affect those who live on old age pensions, who have become the new poor. As long as full employment exists, Bevan's arguments arouse interest but do not give him prime leadership. As a matter of fact, the opposition to him is strongest in the trade unions. But it is admitted on all sides that if the economy suffered a setback, if conditions inside or outside affected Great Britain, so that unemployment returned, there is no telling what Bevan could accomplish politically. He might reach leadership in the Labour party and even become Prime Minister. Bevan is anti-American although it is not clear whether that is a political manoeuvre like a Mayor of Chicago threatening to punch King George's nose to get votes, or is a support of Soviet Russia which Bevan does not openly support.

Even his enemies deny that Bevan is a communist, although they are not able to describe exactly what he is because his ideas do not fit a pattern. They only know that he makes trouble for everybody and revels in it. When the Labour party tried to expel him, they came up against sufficient resistance to take him back, and he is now out campaigning under Labour party auspices, although he says the things that they do not want him to say in this campaign. He seems to be Henry Wallace, Wayne Morris and Harold Ickes all rolled in one and nobody can handle him. It is not only a matter of ego: It is political manoeuvring to become Prime Minister some day. Here any man who has reached the political level that he is considered as a possible Prime Minister, takes on a greater political significance than a possible presidential candidate does in the United States. That is due to the Parliamentary system which gives past, present and future potential Prime Ministers a forum. Lloyd George killed the Liberal party on the anvil of his ambitions: It is feared by Labourites that Aneurin Bevan may do the same to the Labour party.

Reasons Are Many For Aching Feet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

My feet hurt!

Other Causes

We all know that shoes that don't fit can cause aching feet. But, did you know that infection in your teeth, nasal sinuses and digestive tract can give you foot trouble, too? Poor circulation may be responsible for your discomfort or you may have arthritis; but, whatever the cause, there is much you can do to alleviate that pain.

If your shoes are at fault, proper padding to ease pressure will probably prove comforting.

Poor Posture

Posture also plays an important part in foot comfort. Always stand with your feet pointing forward in their natural position. If your feet point outward instead, they put undue strain on the ligaments connecting the foot bones—especially on the inner side of the long arch. This might only cause a slight ache at first, but before long it will develop into severe pain.

In one painful condition which we call "spurs," small callous-like formations develop on the bone of the heel. If this is your trouble, you can probably relieve the pain by alternately wearing shoes with different heel heights each day.

The best cure for aching feet, of course, is complete rest. However, bed-rest over a long period just isn't practical for those of us who have to earn a living. Nevertheless, you can give them a certain amount of rest every day. For example, while you are sitting down, place your feet straight out in front of you on another chair.

Contrast Baths

To aid circulation, try the contrast baths. Get two pails large enough to accommodate both feet. Fill one wth hot water, the other with cold water

Place both feet in the warm water for one minute, then switch them to the cold water for one minute. Follow this procedure for about ten minutes. This should hlep quite a bit.

Van Wert Tot Is Center Of Legal Dispute

Mr. and Mrs. Darnell Brown of Columbus, who have given the youngster a home since last February, filed charges of neglect yesterday against his father, Max Smith of Van Wert.

The couple also has a civil suit against Smith, seeking $300 they say was spent caring for the boy.

Columbus police said Smith told them Sunday he had come for the boy, but the Browns refused to surrender him.

Police quoted him as saying he left the child with the couple early this year when he was working in Ft. Wayne, Ind., and his wife was ill in Van Wert.

He said the Browns were friends of his wife's sister.

Counsel for the Browns, Walter Grelle, said yesterday welfare authorities in Van Wert County would investigate charges the Smiths neglected the boy and their two other children.

Juvenile authorities also will investigate the case here, and a hearing will be held in Juvenile Court to determine custody.

Those initiated were Mrs. Heber Roe and Mrs. Albert Hyer.

Following the initiation, Mrs. Mace welcomed the new members into the unit and explained the aims and purposes of the organization.

The business session was opened according to the ritual by the president, Miss Verna Williams, and was followed by the usual reports given by the secretary, Mrs. Eugene Ladrach and the treasurer, Mrs. Zoe Garringer.

Mrs. Ladrach also read the official notice of the Summer District convention to be held in Manchester, July 12 and the Department Convention in Columbus, July 29, 30 and 31.

The five delegates and alternates chosen to attend these conventions were: Mrs. Howard Mace, Miss Verna Williams, who will be accompanied by the in-coming secretary and treasurer as delegates and alternates are Mrs. Paul Mohr, Mrs. Chester Dunn, Mrs. C. S. Kelley, Mrs. Harold Gorman and Mrs. Eddie Jones.

The president requested that all members meet at Legion Hall, Sunday, May 29, at 10 A. M., to attend Memorial Service at the First Presbyterian Church in a body, with Legion members.

Miss Williams also requested that the members assemble at Legion Hall to participate in the Memorial Day parade, on Monday May 30.

It was voted to contribute $25 to the Little League Baseball, and the meeting was adjourned.

A reception was held for the new members and dainty refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated tea table, with Mrs. Nell Paul presiding over the silver tea service.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Darrell Williams, chairman, Mrs. James R. Williams and Miss Verna Williams.

University Plans Honoring Man, 88

University President Harlan Hatcher tole Dustin he was "a scholar and a gentleman."

"I'm just an amateur, I'm no great shakes," said Dustin, who never went to college, nor even to high school.

It is not wise for weight-watchers to use mineral oil in salad dressings because oil absorbs vitamins A and K and so they are not available for body use. Yogurt tastes good with salad greens or dressings may be concocted from buttermilk or tomato juice.

State Tax Rate Notices Trimmed

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill cutting from six to four the number of times tax rate notices must be published in newspapers. The vote was 106-22.

The action followed reconsideration of an earlier vote on which the measure fell six votes short of passage. That measure called for publication only twice. After increasing that number to four, the House approved the bill.

Coed Is Swamped By Scholarships

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — Jane L. Baltzell has been offered so many scholarships she can't handle them all.

Jane is 20 and a Phi Beta Kappa. She graduates from Pembroke College next month. She held scholarships throughout her four years there.

Wednesday she was named winner of a Fulbright scholarship for a year of advance study overseas.

Three months ago she was notified she won a Rotary Foundation fellowship for a year of study in England.

She turned down both because she had accepted a Marshall fellowship for two years of study at Cambridge (England) University.

Railroads Tell Stockholders About Gains

Annual Reports Say Recent Times Better For Large Carriers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Rail stockholders are getting glowing pictures at their annual meetings — if they look back only one year or so for their comparisons.

New York Central shareholders, meeting today in Albany, are being told by Robert R. Young of the gains over a year ago. Pennsylvania Railroad's president, James M. Symes, told stockowners this was the best year in the last 10.

Reports at annual meetings of better times have come recently from the head men of Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, St. Louis-San Francisco and others.

Gains over last year for railroads as a whole are terrific — earnings of the 126 top roads up 90 per cent; car loadings up 12 per cent; and prospects for even better gains ahead.

Back in the 20's the railroads carried more than three fourths of all freight between cities. Today they carry barely more than half. In those earlier days they toted most of the passengers. Buses and airplanes have siphoned away much of this business. Railroads complain that what is left is run at a loss.

Competitors have captured many of the new products of our expanding economy and most of the new traffic routes opened up by our geographically shifting population, the National Industrial Conference Board points out.

The results showed up bitterly for the railroads a year ago. Because so much of their freight business is now in bulk commodities of low value per ton — such as coal, ore and coke — last year's setback in industrial activity hit the roads hard. This year the gains for the rails sprang in large part from the revival in the heavy industries.

To aid the roads, the Presidential Advisory Committee on Transport Policy and Organization recommends broad relaxation of federal controls over interstate transportation.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. Smith
(City School Superintendent)

Sometime ago a news item was carried in the Record-Herald listing science projects exhibited by students of Washington High School at the District Science Fair at Wittenberg College. In addition to those projects three senior physics students constructed somewhat elaborate projects of an electrical nature which did not lend themselves to being transported away from the city for exhibition.

Dick Pensyl constructed a complete home music system consisting of a record player, radio, tape recorder, and microphone which are arranged so that sound from his choice of any of these sources can be fed into a high-fidelity amplifier and then into a "hi-fi" speaker for reproduction. The amplifier is 100 per cent the work of the proud owner of the system. Dick says that this is the first major project that he has constructed with his own hands, and that he got as much enjoyment out of the construction of the set as he does in listening to the music produced.

Wray Herdman is probably the only person in town who can tell which way the wind is blowing without going to the door or window. Wray has constructed an electrical wind indicator, which is a glorified weather vane, so wired that the wind direction is always available by reading a series of flashing lights on an indicator panel. A great deal of mechanical ingenuity was displayed by Wray in the construction of this project.

Ralph Hoffman, who is a licensed commercial radio operator in addition to being an amateur radio operator, has constructed a complete "ham" radio station and is "on the air" using call letters W8LFR as much as time will permit. Ralph states that his hobby has enabled him to make many friendships throughout the United States and in several foreign countries as well. The construction of this project required many hours of study in basic theory of radio preceding actual construction and use of the set.

Science educators are constantly trying to impress upon their students that science is something to be done instead of merely being something to be read about and talked about. Many valuable college scholarships are open to students who are willing to spend their spare time in the construction of science projects.

In a recent national typing contest Linda Perrill and Ronnie Whitaker were awarded certificates for achieving over 60 net words a minute. Linda's typing speed in the contest was 65 net words a minute, and Ronnie had a net speed of 62 for five minutes.

The contest was sponsored by the Pittman Publishing Corporation, and more than 10,000 typists in high schools throughout the nation competed. Cash prizes of $100, $50, and $25 were given for the three top places, and certificates were awarded to those who achieved 60 net words a minute or over.

Lausche Sets Flag Week In Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche has proclaimed June 6-14 National Flag Week in Ohio, and June 11-17 Civil Air Patrol Week.

The governor called on Ohioans to join in the commemoration of the birth of "Old Glory" during Flag Week and to make themselves more familiar with work of the Ohio wing of the Civil Air Patrol during the other period.

U. S. Aid Is Urged For Plow Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Polk (D-Ohio) suggested today the government help finance the World Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contest to be held near Peebles, Ohio, in September 1957.

This will mark the first time this affair has been held in the United States. It is being conducted in Sweden this year.

Officials of the steering committee of the World Plowing Organization met yesterday at the Agriculture Department to discuss the U. S. event. Polk said he thought agencies like the Agriculture and State Departments could help pay expenses of the U. S. exposition. About 20 nations are expected to attend.

A COUPLE OF HAIR-RAISERS have been booked for Friday and Saturday at the Fayette Theater. One is "Tarzan's Hidden Jungle" (scene above) in which Gordon Scott takes the title role and the other is "Big House, USA" a story that stars Broderick Crawford in a savage prison outbreak.

Couple In 70s Plans Boat Trip

NEW PORT RICHEY, Fla. (AP)—A 77-year-old retired engineer, who made headlines with a small boat trip from Sandusky, Ohio, to New Port Richey by himself in 1952, will leave with his bride of "about 70" on a 7,000-mile small boat jaunt next week.

Married last Saturday to the former Mrs. Louise Lussier of New Port Richey, Capt. Harvey H. Hecker says they will go to Fort Myers, 150 miles south of here on the Gulf of Mexico, then to the East Coast via the Cross State Canal, up the Atlantic Coast's inland route, the Hudson River, and the Great Lakes to Chicago, then back down the Mississippi River and around the Gulf Coast to New Port Richey.

Weekend Holiday Specials Set Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smoked hams and turkeys will dominate the list of specials in the nation's foodstores for the approaching Memorial Day weekend.

These holiday favorites will be priced below a year ago, meat men report. In general, turkeys will be down a couple of cents a pound. Smoked hams will be available at levels 10 cents a pound or more below those of last Memorial Day. Canned hams also will be lower.

Sirloin steak prices will be higher in many places, but by and large popular cuts of meat will sell for around the same prices as a week ago.

The American Meat Institute comment is that contrary to the usual pattern, pork continues in relatively good supply for this time of year, with retail prices ranging 13 to 31 per cent below those of a year ago.

Both the green and the yellow types of squash offer good value.

Asparagus, carrots, beans, celery, escarole, endive, corn and new crop onions also are recommended by the produce specialists.

U. S. Prosperity Moves Up Slightly

CINCINNATI (AP)—An economic adviser of former President Truman says the annual rate of income of the American people has risen $15 billion in the last six months.

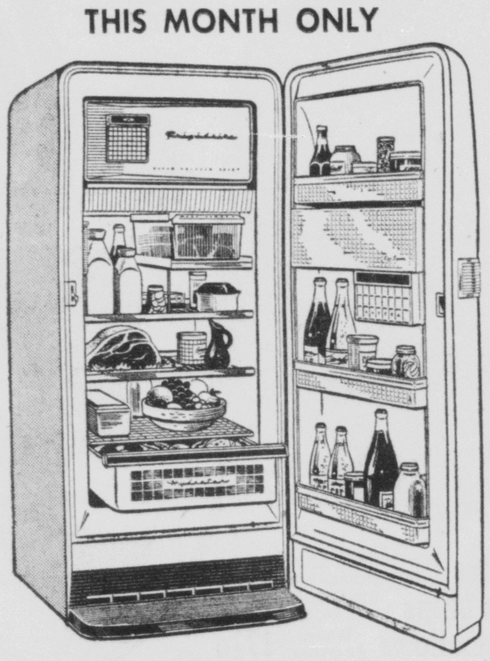

And, says Leon H. Keyserling: "In the next few years, economic prosperity in the United States is going to grow at an accelerating rate."

Rug experts estimate it would cost 10 billion dollars to replace all the rugs and carpets now in use in the United States.

Ohio's Mental Hospitals Over-Populated, Data Shows

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state department of mental hygiene and correction reported today Ohio's largest mental hospital has a population of almost twice its capacity.

The department's statistics bureau said Longview State Hospital at Cincinnati has 3,599 patients. The American Psychiatric Assn. rates its capacity at only 1,803, the bureau said.

Many patients at state hospitals are sleeping in corridors and therapy rooms for lack of space, said Dr. John Porterfield, department director.

Porterfield said cluttered corridors are not only a fire hazard but impair efficient operation. Because of the lack of therapy space, he added, patients who might be cured continue to occupy beds that would be available for new patients.

The department has recommended a 107-million-dollar program of expansion and rehabilitation of the state's mental institutions. This, the department says, would provide for more than 11,000 extra beds and bring the institutions' capacities near the present caseload.

Two institutions, Massillon State Hospital and Orient State Institute for the Mentally Deficient, have the second largest populations with 3,280 patients each. Massillon's rated capacity is 1,847 and Orient's capacity is 2,020, the department said. Toledo State Hospital has 3,061 patients and a capacity of 1,962.

Popultions at other Ohio mental institutions, in order of size, with rated capacity in parentheses, are:

Columbus State Hospital, 2,784 (1,832); Cleveland State Hospital, 2,697 (1,511); Cambridge State Hospital, 2,494 (1,748); Columbus State School, 2,185 (1,439); Gallipolis State Institute, 2,130 (1,295); Apple Creek State Hospital, 2,107 (1,219).

Athens State Hospital, 1,690 (1,126); Dayton State Hospital, 1,664 (1,272); Hawthornden State Hospital, 1,552 (1,453); Lima State Hospital, 1,452 (1,072); Tiffin State Hospital, 707 (573); Mount Vernon State Hospital, 568 (536).

Canada, Danes Not Troubled By Salk Shots

NEW YORK (AP) — Canada and Denmark today reported they have vaccinated about 1,150,000 children against polio with Salk-type vaccine. Officials said not a single case of the disease attributable to the serum has turned up.

Canada has inoculated about 750,000 children so far. One post-inoculation case of polio has been reported, but "it was found to have been infected with the virus before getting its first injection," a Federal Health Department spokesman in Ottawa said.

In Denmark 400,000 children have been inoculated. Authorities in Copenhagen said no polio has been reported in the country since the program began five weeks ago.

Canada and Denmark are the only countries outside the United States carrying on programs of mass inoculations.

In some, polio is not a major medical problem. These include Italy, France, Belgium and the Netherlands, although France's Pasteur Institute is developing a vaccine similar to Dr. Jonas Salk's and plans to test it on a sizable scale in about two months.

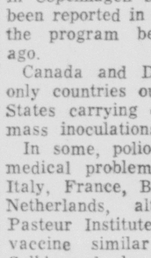

Shortage of the vaccine has delayed some programs. Norway for this reason has postponed indefinitely an ambitious campaign to inoculate all elementary school pupils. Switzerland does not expect supplies from the United States until August and will test it extensively before using it.

News of U. S. difficulties with the vaccine has delayed other programs. Britain's Medical Research Council, which planned test vaccinations, is awaiting a study of safety methods a member of its staff is making in the U. S.

Michigan Girl, 8, Object Of Search

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Long hours of searching by nearly a thousand persons left no clue today to the whereabouts of 8-year-old Jeannie Singleton.

Darkness last night interrupted the hunt for the pert, brown-eyed second grader, but police said they would continue to comb city streets and neighboring woods.

'Girl Mountie' Is Latest Canadian Aid To Tourists

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's editor

Bathing beauties with Geiger counters are a new phenomenon of the Canadian tourist season, says Barbara Lamb, a bright-eyed, pink-cheeked "Girl Mountie" from Ontario.

"It's the newest thing," says Barbara, who heads a group of 50 girls in bright red coats, blue skirts and berets who man 14 reception centers in Ontario, dealing out aid, succor, information and advice to tourists.

"People bring their Geiger counters along with their fishing poles and golf clubs, and then when the fish aren't biting or their golf game is off, they go prospecting for uranium," says Barbara.

"Some of them find it, too. And that's all right with the government, because tourists have the same right to file claims as do residents.

If you plan a prospecting vacation, however, says Barbara, it's smarter to rent your Geiger counter after you get to Canada. Costs less, because of customs duties.

"Most vacationers bring along too many clothes, mostly the wrong kind," says Barbara. "If people would only inquire before they start on a vacation, they would save themselves a lot of trouble.

"Many people planning a trip to Canada think they must bring heavy woolens, when actually what they will need is bathing suits and sun dresses. The southern part of Ontario is the same latitude and climate as northern California, and Toronto in summer is about like New York.

Missing Vaccine Mystery Solved

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The mystery of 140 vials of Salk polio vaccine missing from the local health department has been cleared up. It was found 130 had gone to Meriden and the other 10 were accounted for here. Meriden, one of 29 communities receiving vaccine through New Haven, was given 345 vials instead of its allotted 215.

Union Leaders Chided For Stand

CINCINNATI (AP) — Many union representatives fail to reflect the true spirit of their constituents, says the chairman of the board of Ford Motor Co.

Ernest R. Breech told the Cincinnati chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews that labor-management relations should not be ignored in the work toward brotherhood.

But, he added, "there can be no real understanding where union politics and a drive for greater personal power are allowed to overshadow economic reality."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My problem is my looks. I am not as neat as my husband thinks I should be. He has been going to school the last six years, and in these years he has worked part-time. For three years he had aid from veterans' funds.

Just a year ago he went to work fulltime and since then he has criticized me terribly. Two girls work in his office and they, being single, have more money than I to spend on clothes, of course. Now John points out "your skirt is milk stained, your sweater is faded" and so forth. It is hard to be always immaculate, taking care of four children, the youngest an infant.

My wardrobe consists of two sweaters, two nice skirts, one new suit and four wash dresses which are kept clean. When there is extra money, the children always need something new, and our friends think I've done very well, staying on a budget all these years. It isn't easy, with a growing family.

Open Charge Account?

My morale is very low, though I wish it wasn't; and I feel like opening a charge account at one of the nicer stores, but I know we can't afford it. My hair is shampooed twice a week and set every night, and, in the opinion of my friends, I am a neat person. Do you think I deserve John's criticism? Maybe I shouldn't resent it, but I do.

I would appreciate a nice frank answer from you. Both John and I are 30 years old.

D.R.

Does Critic Offer Help?

DEAR D. R.: Somebody ought to tell John to "put up or shut up" as regards to your clothes. What is he doing to give your appearance a lift? Is destructive criticism his only contribution? If so, his attitude is inexcusable.

If he sees your sweater is faded, or your skirt milkstained, he should hold his tongue, unless he is graciously disposed and actually able to help you remedy these conditions. Is he making any personal sacrifices, to put aside money to invest in your wardrobe?

Is he lending a hand with housework or child care—to allow you some time for rest, recreation or shopping? Or just as a good man's way of being companionable with his wife?

What is he doing to improve your morale and your looks? Does he take notice of your accomplishments, with the house or the children, and praise and encourage your efforts? A man's observant appreciation of his wife's good works is food for her soul, and an incomparable beauty aid. It brightens her complexion, puts a light in her eyes and inspires her to happily dress up for him.

Is Man Phony?

May I remind John that his extensive schooling has been largely a waste of life if, in the end, it makes him a phony, who is arrogantly uncivil to a devoted helpmeet, shortly after he begins to draw a fulltime paycheck. A man hasn't learned anything worthwhile if he doesn't know how to give happiness to those of his own household, and to nourish their self-esteem, so that they rejoice in living closely with him.

Frankly, I think it's heroic of you to be trying your best to suit John's standards, when he is doing so little to make that possible. He certainly has no right to undermine your self-confidence with his picayune nagging. If he ever again finds fault with your dress, or contrasts you unfavorably to girls in the office, you ought to bear down on the fact that he is being unfair and unreasonable. Don't let him put you on the defensive.

If you feel like starting a charge account at one of the nicer stores, it might prove constructive, making economies possible in the long run. Furthermore, it seems a justified reaction to John's complaints, and might cause him to view your tired clothes more tolerantly.

M H.

Tighter Parking Regulations Set

COLUMBUS (AP) — Police here plan to tighten enforcement of a city ban on parking within 30 feet of stop sign . The action was taken after an accident in which 10 persons were injured.

Police reports indicated a two-car collision at an intersection occurred after the view of a stop sign was obscured by a parked beer truck.

Commenting on the crackdown, James V. Musick, city traffic engineer said, "We'll catch hell for doing this, but we'll catch more hell if people keep getting hurt."

Columbus Losing Immigration Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Immigration Service has told Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) it will close its Columbus, Ohio, office July 1.

The reason given for closing, Bricker said, is insufficient work in an area of small alien population. The Cincinnati office will be responsible for the Columbus area.

State Patrol In Full Force During Holidays

Effort Being Made To Reduce Number Of Fatalities

Your chances of not seeing a State Highway Patrolman on the highways over the long Memorial Day weekend are mighty slim, Col. George Mingle, the superintendent, warned today.

The State Patrol head said "all manpower and equipment will be utilized to the best advantage over the holidays with the maximum number of men being on patrol duty during the critical hours."

Uniformed personnel will be on "restricted time off" and will report to duty at times which will parmit the maximum amount of patrol duty. The 54 Posts throughout the state will utilize studies made of their areas in order to assign men to duty in the critical areas at the peak traffic periods.

The Patrol will also press its radar equipment, tow airplanes, mobile trailers and jeeps into service over the state. Equipment will be assigned by a pre-arranged plan. However, the entire operation will be mobile enough so that manpower and equipment can be shifted to unexpected areas on a minute's notice," Colonel Mingle said.

Radar equipment will be placed in areas where studies have shown there is excessive speed. "Speed is one of the greatest contributing factors in traffic deaths and we intend to stop speeding wherever possible," the Colonel declared.

* * *

THE MOBILE trailers, which are completely equipped with radio ommunications, will be stationed at critical traffic locations to provide closer control over congested areas. Also a part of the trailer operations will be safety messages and traffic directions to be broadcast to passing motorists over a loudspeaker system.

The two Patrol airplanes will be assigned to areas known to be "trouble spots" and pilots and observers will attempt to "anticipate serious traffic conditions and inform patrolmen on the ground so they can take action to avert serious situations.

"Although there is no 'get tough' attitude in our plans, we will be on the hgihways in large numbers Friday through Monday in order to prevent as many accidents as possible," Colonel Mingle said. "Many have become better drivers. But there still are motorists who have not learned 'courtesy of the road' —these drivers can expect to be stopped by a patrolman."

Twenty-two persons died in Ohio traffic over the four-day holiday period last year as compared to 26 killed on the same days in 1953. A breakdown of the 1954 figures shows: five killed on May 28, ten on May 29, two on May 30, and five on May 31.

Social Security Aid Is Available For Many Who Were Disabled Before

Seriously disabled people who formerly worked in employment, or self-employment, covered by the social security law, should get in touch with the social security office by June 30, Leonard Garrard, social security representative for Fayette County, announced today.

Garrard pointed out while on his regular trip to this locality, that the people who have been totally disabled for 6 months or longer, and who worked in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law for as many as 5 years out of the 10 years before they were disabled should get further immediate information about this law.

Active military service and employment in the railroad industry may count toward the needed amount of work. By applying to have their social security earnings records frozen, disabled people may prevent loss or reduction of future benefits.

* * *

SOME PEOPLE now receiving old-age insurance payments or who will become eligible for old-age payments in July were disabled for long periods before they reached age 65 and are still disabled. They may start getting larger payments as of July and will get them more promptly if they file an application for a "disability freeze" by June 30.

If the disabled person dies after June 30, the disability freeze can protect his family's rights to survivors payments but only if he had applied for it before death. This reason, it is important for every person who meets the requirements for the "freeze" to apply for it by June 30.

Garrard emphasized that the law protects the social security rights of a worker who is suffering from prolonged total disability but does not pay cash benefits to him before he is 65.

The address of the Columbus social security office is Old Post Office Building at Third and State Streets. If a disabled person is unable to call at the office, he may telephone or someone else may call for him, Garrard said.

Garrard or some representative from the Columbus office is at the Employment Office in Washington C. H. every Wednesday afternoon.

Officers Seeking Former Jailbreaker

Greene County officers have broadcast a "wanted" alarm for Harry J. Ferguson, Jr., 25, Hillsboro, who is wanted for striking his sister, Mrs. Maxine Wallace, Bowersville, in the face with his fist and also hitting her with a board.

His sister asked the Greene County Sheriff to arrest him, but he had vanished when officers reached the scene, and is still at large according to last reports.

Mrs. Wallace was treated by a Jamestown physician.

Ferguson was one of five men who broke jail at Xenia Dec. 26, and when he was arrested the court held he had been jailed illegally, so he was released.

Bank Theft Alarm Is Proven False

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police answering a burglar alarm Tuesday with guns drawn, nabbed a man with a sack of money as he was leaving the Upper Arlington branch of the Ohio National Bank. Then someone told them the alarm was tripped by accident. The man, Leo Campbell, was taking the money to the state liquor store nearby, where he works.

Swimming Class Schedule Set Up

Swimming instruction is to start at the Washington Park pool this year on June 6. And again it will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Green, who will handle virtually all of the personal instruction herself, and in accordance with the standards set up by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Green has just completed drawing up a schedule of classes that she will teach five days a week—no classes are set up for Saturday or Sunday. There is no charge for the swimming lessons, but only those with memberships, either master or associate, are eligible.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday, starting at 11 A. M., will be the swimmer's class for those holding Red Cross intermediate certificates.

On Tuesday and Thursday, starting at 10 A M., will be advanced classes for those holding Red Cross swimmer certificates.

Every day (except Saturday and Sunday), starting at 10:45 A. M., will be the intermediate class for those holding Red Cross beginner certificates.

Every day (five days a week), starting at 11:15 A. M., will be the advanced beginner class.

Every day, starting at 11:45 A. M., will be the beginner's class.

On Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, starting at 12:30 P. M., will be class for adults.

Mrs. Green said that while the morning classes in general were for children, some adults might take their lessons then if the time is more convenient.

At the end of the season, she said, Red Cross certificates will be awarded to those who pass the tests.

No advance enrollment is necessary—although it would be helpful in planning—Mrs. Green said and added "all they have to do is come to the pool and get into their swim suits.

Jury Duty Shunned For Good Reason

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The registered voter at 5206 Windermere Ave. gave Municipal Court Jury Commissioner Douglas Lathrop this reason why he couldn't present himself for jury duty: "I find that my duties . . . require all of my time and I deeply regret that I cannot appear for jury service in your court." He signed it "Kurtz Kauffman, judge of the Superior Court."

Tito Fears Russian 'Love' May Turn Out To Be Fatal

Editor's note—Tito faces the risk that the Russians might kill him with love. The reunion in Belgrade, bringing Soviet and Yugoslav leaders together after their long quarrel, may give the Russians access to measures denied them in recent years. Some of the possibilities of the reconciliation are discussed in this article, last of a series on the Moscow-Belgrade axis.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, now Soviet premier, once likened President Tito of Yugoslavia to Judas Iscariot. That was the thing to do while the old tyrant, Stalin, glowered over the scene.

But today President Tito says Bulganin, Soviet Communist Boss N. S. Khrushchev, Soviet Trade Expert A. I. Mikoyan and the rest of the Moscow party are "courageous." They go to Belgrade in humility, admitting the genius Stalin was wrong after all. Seeking only friendship, said Khrushchev, the Russians journey to Yugoslavia "with open souls and pure hearts."

In both the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, there are strong indications that anxiety to ease international tensions is in direct ratio to internal distress. In both countries the distress is fairly apparent.

The Soviet economy, with its vast emphasis on heavy industry, is topheavy. The internal Soviet political struggle has not been settled.

The Yugoslav economy remains in poor shape. Like the Soviet Union, it suffers from a lopsided bureaucracy, from failure of agriculture, from inability to provide consumer goods, from growing disaffection among the rising, conservative middle classes as the old Bolsheviks die out.

Either regime would be in grave danger in a new war. Both are passionately interested in neutralism, for slightly different reasons. The Yugoslavs want it because they fear an arms race will lead to war and the end of their regime. The Soviet Union wants it because the growing strength of the western ring around the U.S.S.R. dampens Red enthusiasm for aggressive expansion, politically or otherwise.

Communist Yugoslavia often speaks about peace in words like those of the Soviet party's Pravda. Tito, walking a tightrope, contends he is trying to steer an independent middle course between West and East.

But in the opinion of some competent outside observers, Tito has none too strong a grip on his own party. A big enough push might topple the Croat dictator from his throne, and the push still could come from Moscow. A settlement with the Soviet party could bring to influence and power that group within Tito's party known as the "Cominformists," who never really approved the break with Moscow.

The least Moscow can accomplish by its overtures to Belgrade is to make the West suspect Yugoslavia's loyalties. At the most, Yugoslavia may become another link in a chain of neutralism, beginning with Austria, which the Russians hope will extend from Sweden to the Mediterranean and dent opposition to Red expansionism.

There is risk for Moscow, similar to the risk involved in agreeing to an Austrian independence treaty. There is likely to be a strong effect in the satellite countries, where the Communists under Stalin executed hundreds as Titoists in the past. The U.S.S.R. can be expected to tighten its controls.

The Yugoslavs may reestablish close relations with Moscow. But if they do, Tito can never again feel wholly safe, and he himself has said he will never again be able to trust the Russians completely. He has reason for worry.

In the Balkans there is a feeling that a strong bond exists between Yugoslav and Soviet Army officers. Until 1948 the Yugoslavs' training was wholly Soviet. The general staff is reported to be heavily populated with men who lean toward the Russians, and even those who object to the Cominform cling to the idea that Stalinism did not taint the Soviet Army. Tito is said to be aware of this, but to have regarded it as a form of insurance that his officers would stay immune from Western influences.

Now he may worry about just how immune they are to Soviet influences.

Strangers Talk Informally Just Before Shooting

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—"What's your name?"

Barnett Masters, 24, pondered the impromptu question and replied:

"I don't have a name. I'm a stranger here."

Then he reconsidered and added: "My name is Masters. What's yours?"

"My name is Dink Powell," came the reply.

Clyde McQueen, testifying Tuesday at Powell's murder trial, said there was no argument; no other preliminaries when Masters was shot dead March 12 in a rural restaurant.

He said Powell "drew a pistol from his bosom" and shot Masters on the spot.

Arrest Charges Ruled Too Severe

OMAHA (AP)—Edward E. Kopfle, 23, ran his car into a ditch on a country road and started walking for help. He had hoofed it a mile when deputy sheriffs seeking the owner of the wrecked car, spotted by them on their rounds, caught up.

They handed Kopfle a ticket including a charge of leaving the scene of a property damage accident. But Capt. R. H. Walter said that was going too far and scratched the count. He let stand a charge of having no driver's license.

Man Phones Wife, Then Shoots Self

Mrs. Anna Guidi, 38, said that those words were followed by a shot, and then silence.

She telephoned Weymouth police, who went to the Guidi home and found the husband dead of a bullet wound in the head.

3 Top Issues Face Steel Industry Men

By SAM DAWSON

They have gathered for the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute. Formal discussions will be on the technical problems and accomplishments of the industry. There'll be assessments of the present boom and its probably life expectancy.

But in the corridors the earnest talk will be of what to do about wages, prices and expansion. What the steel industry does about those three things could help set a national pattern.

Wage talks with the steelworkers union open in a couple of weeks in Pittsburgh. Rumor has it that the union will ask for a wage increase of more than 16 cents an hour. Steel executives here for the Wage talks with the steelworkers union open in a couple of weeks in Pittsburgh. Rumor has it that the union will ask for a wage increase of more than 16 cents an hour. Steel executives here for the meeting will have a chance to compare ideas on how much management should offer. Some believe that when the negotiations are over the settlement will be around 12 cents an hour.

Steel wage talks start after the auto industry's deadline has passed. What happens in Detroit will have a strong effect on the steel talks.

A strike in the auto industry would cut off the steel mills' best customer. Or, a liberal wage increase there as a compromise on the auto union's other demands would be a strong talking point for the steelworkers in bargaining with steel management.

A steel price hike is just as pressing a topic today. Leaders in the industry have said a price increase is necessary, no matter what the outcome of the wage talks next month. They cite rising operating costs.

Their customers, noting the record or near-record earnings that some steel companies reported in the first three months of the year, will hope that the price hike can be held to a small one.

Steel executives in New York today will have a chance to compare views on how big a price hike to plan and how effective customer resistance might be.

The defense program, born of the Korean War, inspired the steel industry to build up facilities to a point where 15 per cent could be marked as reserve for military use if need arose. With military demand now below its former peak, civilian demand has picked up unexpectedly to the point where the industry as a whole is operating at almost full capacity. Some companies are parcelling out certain steel products to their customers. The reserve capacity has disappeared, for the time at least.

Top steel companies have said another round of expansion must be planned. In their talks today steelmen can try to judge how much more the civilian economy is likely to grow and how much more steel it will be likely to demand in the years ahead.

Wages, prices and expansion may be the steelmen's present headaches. But they come at a time of unprecedented prosperity for the industry.

Their institute estimates that production this week will run just a mite under the record tonnage of 2,345,000 turned out in the week of May 9.

The steelmen, if they compare notes on their advance order books, will find that most of these are well filled through the third quarter. And prospects for the rest of the year are bright.

Since the railroads stepped up substitution of diesel for coal-fired locomotives, some plants making cinder building blocks have had trouble getting enough raw material.

Hardshell, Baptist, Pumpkin Chapel, Hi-Hat, Brightshade, Stopover, Julip, Mud Lick Mud Camp, Fishtrap and Pippapass are places in Kentucky, says the National Geographic Society.

Sunoco Stations Set to Open Here

Friday and Saturday Are To Be Big Days

Two new Sunoco Service Stations are to be formally opened with a flourish and fanfare here Friday and Saturday.

They are both on the CCC Highway at opposite sides of the city—one on West Court Street at Circle Avenue and the other 1156 Columbus Avenue.

Construction of the two stations, both the last word in modern service station design, has just been completed. Both, too, are equipped with the latest approved lubrication equipment and all of the modern facilities for the convenience and service of the motoring public.

But the formal opnenig—on Friday and Saturday—is to be somewhat of a production with clowns for the entertainment of the kiddies with free balloons and suckers thrown in for a good measure, gifts for the ladies, cokes for everyone and free lubrications.

• • •

DICK BOSTER is the dealer in charge of the West Court Street station. He is a native of Springfield but came here from Columbus where he was connected with the Sunoco Oil Co. He served in the Air Force during the second War and just before he returned to the Sunoco Co. in Columbus he was at the Air Force Base in Wilmington for a short time.

He and Mrs. Boster and their daughter, 3, and son, 2, live at 319 North Hinde Street. Mrs. Boster, the former Mary Lois Brown, is a Washington C. H. girl.

Bob Barnett is the dealer in charge of the Columbus Avenue station. He is a native of Canal Winchester. He was connected with the Sunoco Co. in Columbus before he went into the army for three years and went back to his old post after he was discharged last March.

He and Mrs. Barnett and their year-old son live on the Greenfield Pike about six miles south of the city.

He Puts Garbage Can In Window

DETROIT (AP) — Edward A. O'Brien objected at first when Detroit's Department of Public Works Commission notified him that as a homeowner he'd have to comply with city regulations and buy a garbage can.

O'Brien explained that he's a bachelor and lives alone. He eats all his meals out. He never uses a garbage can.

But the commission held firm, so O'Brien bought a garbage can and stood it in the front window for city officials to see.

"I like everyone to be happy," he said.

Bloomingburg Alumni Banquet Is Saturday

Alumni of Bloomingburg High School today were looking forward to their first banquet and get-together in nine years.

It is to be held at the Country Club here Saturday night. A good sized turnout of "Old Grads" is expected to gather there to renew old friendships, get better acquainted with the families of the former students and enjoy an evening of fellowship.

Dr. Victor Emery is president of the association.

As has been the custom in the past, there will be a joint Sunday school at the Presbyterian Church in Bloomingburg the day after the alumni banquet. The Methodist Sunday school is to be dispensed with Sunday so the Methodists may join with the Presbyterians for the classes which are to start at 9:45 A. M.

The regular worship service is to be held at the First Presbyterian Church, too. It is to start at 11 A. M. with Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, delivering the message.

Texas First Lady Suffers Mumps

The Shivers family began its bout with the disease three weeks ago when Marialice Sue (Cissy) Shivers, 8, contracted it.

Neither the governor nor the three Shivers sons have had the mumps, a mansion spokesman said, but the governor was confined Tuesday with what doctors said was a "light case of influenza."

Shivers was expected back in his office today.

Women's Clubs Lauded By Ike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— President Eisenhower has commended the General Federation of Women's Clubs for its efforts to increase international good will.

Eisenhower said it is particularly impressive that through their generous contributions for overseas relief, the clubwomen have demonstrated their friendship for women of other nations.

The General Federation, the world's largest organization of women, has 11 million members, half in clubs in this country and the remainder in affiliated clubs in 33 foreign countries.

Loretta Young Reported Better

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) — Loretta Young is winning her six-week bout with peritonitis, an inflammation of an abdominal membrane, her friends report. She is still in St. John's Hospital here, but a close friend said she gained six pounds in the last week and "would have been out of the hospital now if she hadn't been so tired."

Kids From 10 Nations Live Together In Camp In Ohio

OLIVE BRANCH, Ohio (AP)—Near this cross-roads town whose name symbolizes peace, boys and girls from 10 nations are learning to live and play together.

They form the Children's International Village, dedicated to the proposition that lads and lasses from all over the world have similar interests, especially the interest of peace. All the 20 girls and 21 boys are 11 years old.

The campers from Argentine, Brzil, British Hondouras, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicarauga, Mexico, Sweden, Venezuela and the United States follow a regular camp schedule of nature study, arts and crafts and sports and swimming. In the evenings, they sing and dance their native songs. All the countries are represented by four boys and girls, except Mexico which has an extra youth. Each group is accompanied by an adult.

Children's International Village was founded in 1951 when Dr. Doris T. Allen, Cincinnati psychiatrist, and her husband, Eratus Allen, attempted to answer the question of their own 11-year-old child of "why we have to have war." Similar "villages" have been held in Sweden, Germany and Finland. The village in Clermont County is backed by the contributions of private citizens and industrial firms.

Homer Eddington, former member of the football coaching staff at Ohio State and Kent State universities and former athletic director at Chillicothe, Ohio, is director of this year's camp. He was assistant director at the first camp and is invited to assist at an international village later in the summer at Hamburg, Germany.

"International understanding here is put on a personal basis," Eddington said. "A little boy from Norway told me he no longer thinks of 'Mexicans,' or 'Americans,' or 'Germans' but of the boys and girls he knows by names from these countries."

Eddington said he believed there is a great carryover in late yeas of the intenational undestanding they obtain through living, eating and swimming and talking together.

"This," he said, "is a necessary step towards peace."

Alabama Studies New Tax On Ads

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Bills designed to preserve segregated schools in Alabama and provide a 3 per cent tax on all types of advertising were introduced yesterday in the Alabama House.

The proposal by Rep. James Dement would levy a tax on advertising in newspaper, magazines, periodicals, signs, billboards, and on radio and television stations.

The tax would be based on gross receipts from such advertising and proceeds would be earmarked for the state's elementary schools. A companion bill provides that "no white or colored child shall be compelled to attend a school where the races are comingled."

County Receives Official's Estate

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Even in death H. B. Fife remembered the people who kept him in office 40 years.

His estate, valued at more than $250,000, will go to Hardin County, where he served as judge, magistrate, sheriff and deputy sheriff.

The will stipulates that income from the estate should go for road building, construction of an airport, a county jail or courthouse. The principal must be held in trust by the county.

Fife, who died May 15 at 82, never married. He had only one known survivor, a niece living in New York City.

West Sees Some Dangers In Visit of Russians To Tito

Editor's Note — How far can Tito move toward Moscow and yet retain the benefits he enjoys from his relationship with the West? What has he to fear from Moscow? These are part of Tito's dilemma as he awaits a Soviet delegation ready to confess Stalin was wrong in outlawing Tito as a renegate communist. William L. Ryan discusses the prospects in this second of three articles.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

President Tito, looking like an American banker in his trim, dark suit, was bristling with annoyance when I saw him last.

His anger seemed added evidence that, if the matter was one for Tito alone to decide, there would be no full family reconciliation with the Cominform. The big question remained, however, whether it would be a matter for Tito alone to decide.

The target of Tito's anger was Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov. At the time Georgi Malenkov was deposed as Soviet premier, Molotov made a speech. Touching on Yugoslavia, Molotov hinted—just hinted—that Yugoslav Communists were sorry for their past deviations.

Speaking to his parliament, Tito, growing gray, portly and florid, lit into Molotov for such innuendo. Molotov, he indicated, was trying to push the notion that Yugoslavia's moves toward normal relations with Moscow betrayed a willingness to "correct" past errors of dogma. This sort of thing, said Tito, was "nonsense," throwing doubt on the sincerity of other statements by Eastern leaders.

There was an implication in this that during the Malenkov regime, Tito won his battle with Moscow, that his price for full normalization was an open Moscow admission that Stalin had been wrong from the start in his feud with Belgrade. Molotov's speech thus seemed to indicate that, with Malenkov gone, Moscow was reneging on the deal.

Thus it is a matter of note that Moscow's delegation to Belgrade, ostensibly asking that bygones be bygones, does not include Molotov. He is a reminder of the Stalin era, when Yugoslavia was outlawed.

Evidence at hand indicates Tito will not "redefect" completely to the East. He was educated by Moscow. He would know the risks involved.

But Western observers detect some danger. They suspect a division in the Yugoslav Communist party and that a large number of Yugoslav Communists would be happy to collaborate closely with Moscow again.

What about the ties with the West, the arms and the economic aid which came from the West? Here is one view:

"The arms we receive from the West? What of it? This is sent to us by the workers of America and England and not by some capitalists seeking to exploit the people. This material is sent not for use against the people of Russia, but against the exploiters of the workers everywhere."

Belgrade's Communists will tell you Yugoslavia is Communist and will remain that way. As for arms aid, the reaction one gets is that the Yugoslavs did not ask collaboration with the West if the West wants it, the West must accept the regime and what goes with it.

It is against such a background that the Soviet Union carries its peace offensive to Belgrade with visit by three of the most important Moscow rulers.

Fatal Accident Rates Reduced

Present Year May Be Headed For Record

Not a single traffic fatality has occurred in Washington C. H. for six years, a check of the records reveals, and police say unesitatingly that this is largely due to reasonable enforcement of the traffic laws, particularly with reference to speed and reckless driving.

Few cities in Ohio or in fact the United States, hold such a record of no traffic fatalities.

During the year 1954, there were 97 cities in Ohio which reduced fatal accidents of all kinds, largely due to enforcing traffic laws.

This announcement is made by Henri Marc, president of the Ohio State Safety Council, who has released a list of cities which won the council's accident reduction awards.

Columbus led Group I cities (over 200,000 population) with a 28.6 percent reduction. Akron had the lowest casualty rate in the group—30.51 deaths per 100,000 population.

The Group II (50,000 to 200,000) race was nose to nose, Lima edging Lakewood by 0.3 percent, having a 35.7 percent improvement. Lakewood's casualty rate—18.46—was best in the group.

Middletown had the best improvement—62.2 percent—and the lowest rate 13.80 in Group three (30,000 to 49,999).

Group four (20,000 to 29,999) was dominated by Shaker Heights with a 61.6 percent reduction and the low rate of 17.30.

Campbell had Group five honors without much threat from other cities in the 10,000 to 19,999 bracket. It was the largest city to record no fatal accidents, having a reduction of 100 percent.

Eleven cities under 10,000 population escaped fatalities during the year. Fairborn was the largest, consequently it will receive the Group VI award. Deer Park, Toronto, Uhrichsville, Mayfield Heights, Bryan, Lockland, Port Clinton, Logan, Wyoming and Medina — each without a fatal accident, are ranked according to population.

Marc explained that cities are grouped according to the latest population estimates of the division of vital statistics. Rates are based on fatalities of every kind within the respective Municipal Health Districts. Awards are granted for the greatest reduction in casualty rates.

The safety chief said that 1954 was Ohio's safest year — 54.21 deaths per 100,000 population. All types of fatalities are lower still this year, indicating that a new record may be in the making.

Monday Declared To Be Prayer Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has proclaimed Memorial Day Monday as a day of nationwide prayer for peace.

Acting under a congressional resolution to set aside a day for that purpose, the President designated the hour beginning in each locality at 11 a. m. as a period in which citizens "may unite in beseeching God to guide the world into the ways of peace."

The proclamation said Memorial Day each year serves as a "solemn reminder of the scourage of war and its bitter aftermath of sorrow," and is traditionally devoted to paying homage to those who have lost their lives in war.

U. S Population Near 165 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's population is due to reach 165 million Friday morning.

The census clock, a large board with a map of the United States and a clock hand indicating total population, ticks off a net increase of one person each 12 seconds.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, would just once explain publicly the difficulties with the antipolio vaccine, some of the confusion might be removed.

Scheele and the health service from time to time have issued statements, as confusion piled upon confusion, but no layman could understand what, if anything, was wrong with the vaccine or why the program has ground to a virtual stop.

In the 44 days since the government first okayed use of the vaccine, this has happened:

1. The government stopped use of the vaccine, then cleared some of it but not enough to keep the inoculation program going very long.

2. At least 92 vaccinated children have come down with polio, 60 of them after receiving vaccine made by the Cutter Laboratories, of Berkeley, Calif.

3. Scheele has met repeatedly with groups of advisers—his own specialists, outside polio experts, representatives of the six licensed vaccine manufacturers—and so far as the public can see the program is still up in the air.

4. Although the government in April withdrew all Cutter vaccine it has not yet said what if any connection there is between the Cutter vaccine and the polio which developed in 60 children who received it.

5. A split occurred Wednesday night between one manufacturer—and perhaps all six of them—and the health service after it laid down new testing standards.

April 27—After several children vaccinated with the Cutter product came down with polio, the government withdrew all Cutter vaccine.

May 7—After more vaccinated children developed polio, Scheele called a halt to all vaccinations so his experts could check the laboratories of the manufacturers.

May 13—Scheele approved release of some batches—after his men had checked the plant—of vaccine made by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

May 15—Scheele gave similar approval to some batches made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis.

May 18—The health service delayed the release of vaccine by all other manufacturers for "some days." None of it has been released since.

May 24—The health service said all vaccine "already used or recleared" for use had been found safe with the possible exception of two out of the nine batches made by Cutter.

Scheele said there was "strong presumptive" evidence of a connection between the Cutter vaccine and the polio which developed in some children who received it.

He stopped short of saying positively there was a direct connection. When would the government release more vaccine? Scheele was asked that question May 24. He said he couldn't answer when he'd have information on that.

May 25—The health service laid down new testing standards for manufacturers. At least one of them—an official of the Parke, Davis Co.—said he could not accept the standards as presently written.

Formosa's people are 65 percent literate — high by Asiatic standards.

Farm Boy Pitching Find Unafraid Of Major League

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Bruce Swango,a broad-shouldered farm boy pitching discovery, joined the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday full of confidence and apparently unafraid of his big jump from high school to the major leagues.

Swango's high school record sounds like something an author might dream up for a novel. And the way he talks about it smacks of the great Dizzy.

When he was signed to a bonus contract last Sunday, it was reported Swango was to receive $30,000 in indicements and salary over a three-year period.

But Bruce — as he prefers to be called — straightened those preliminary estimates out in short order, explaining that his pay for those three years will amount to $36,000.

The plain - spoken kid also hastened to correct a slight exaggeration of himself. He said he is not as fast as Bob Turley, the New York Yankees' fireballer. That's how Swango was described by centerfielder Mickey Mantle of the Yankees when the New Yorkers were dickering for his services. Bruce admitted he is "pretty fast" as a grin crept across his square-jawed countenance. "I struck out an average of 17 batters for each seven-inning game, so I guess I might throw pretty hard."

Swango fanned 21 batters in one game and 22 on another occasion "because the catcher couldn't hold the ball and I had to fan an extra hitter."

Bruce said he wasn't sure but he thought he hurled "three or four" no-hitters and about four one-hitters. When not pitching he played the outfield and batted a modest .450 as a left - handed swinger. He batted in the clean-up spot — naturally.

The barrel-chested youth, who looks like a football player, said he didn't play football in high school because the school didn't have a team. He did play basketball. His scoring average — a mere 55 points a game in his last two years, he said.

The 5-foot-11, 190-pound youngster said he chose to sign with the Orioles "because it looked to me like the quickest way to make the major leagues."

"Besides," he added, "the Orioles made me the best offer."

Then, again endeavoring to straighten out previous reports, Bruce explained to newsmen that wasn't right that just seven major league clubs had scouted him. Fifteen was more like it, he said, with Cincinnati the only team which didn't offer him a feeler.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., opened defense of his title in the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open golf tournament today against a classy field of nearly 100 contenders.

Gene Littler, top money winner this year with more than $21,000, headed the list of challengers in the sixth annual tourney on the Elks Country Club's gullied 6,555-yard course. The 72-hole test will continue through Sunday.

Mims Is Awarded Decision In Bout

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Counter-punching Holly Mims of Washington floored Charley Green of Los Angeles in the first round last night round knockdown to win a unanimous decision in their 10-round televised bout here.

Mims, fourth ranked middleweight, caught Green, a stablemate of champion Bobo Olson's, with a left hook in the first round and the West Coast fighter took an eight count. Green, whose nose started bleeding in the fifth, then put on a hot rally in the ninth that sent Mims sprawling through the ropes for a nine count.

Judge Fred Connell saw it 53-47, Judge Howard Hess 54-46 and Referee Dick Young 52-48, all for Mims.

Cops Chase Man Hour In Boats

WARWICK, R. I. (AP)—For more than an hour yesterday two boats equipped with outboard motors raced at high speed around Narragansett Bay.

After 25 miles one boat ran out of gas and the other caught up with it.

The second boat was manned by state conservation officers, the first by William D. Caswell Jr., 25, of Bristol, who was arrested for fishing illegally. He pleaded guilty later and was fined $50.

Indiana Seeking 4th League Title

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Indiana, beaten only once in dual matches this season, today aims for a record-matching fourth straight tennis title in the annual Big Ten championship meet at Northwestern's courts.

Northwestern set the record string from 1947 through 1950.

2 Old Pros Give Youths Pacing Lesson

COLUMBUS — A couple of old pros, who once battled each other over a two-day period to decide the year's richest pacing race, have thrown a monkey wrench into the nation's free-for-all pacing picture.

Meadow Rice and Wilmington's Star fashioned upsets at Roosevelt and Rosecroft Raceways last week that have been heard 'round the harness racing world.

Victims of the twin-barreled assault were the two young "wonder horses" of the fast class pacing ranks, Adios Harry and Adios Boy.

At Roosevelt Raceway Meadow Rice took on Adios Harry and two others in a four-horse event. Meadow Rice, driven by Jimmy Jordan for owner W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky., broke the brief but impressive winning streak of the Delaware sidewheeler in 2:00.3, fastest mile of the season over a half-mile oval.

Adios Boy, rated the free-for-all "Horse To Beat" in a pre-season poll conducted by the U. S. Trotting Association, made his debut at Rosecroft in Maryland but came a cropper in Wilmington's Star who won in 2:08.4 for 1 1-16 miles.

Meadow Rice and Wilmington's Star are both familiar figures in pacing ranks. In 1952 they met in the $60,000 Little Brown Jug at Delaware. Wilmington's Star won the first heat and then, after rain forced a halt to proceedings that day, Meadow Rice came back the following afternoon and closed out the race by winning the next two heats.

Youth, of course, must eventually be served, on the harness tracks as elsewhere, but for the moment at least the accolades are all for a pair of rugged old-timers who can still throw a pretty good one-two punch.

Ohio FFA Booked For State Parley

The convention at Ohio State University is sponsored by the Ohio Department of Education and the OSU College of Agriculture.

Holiday Fishing Chances Good For Ohioans

COLUMBUS (AP)—Anglers can expect bright prospects for Memorial Day weekend in Ohio.

That's the report of the Ohio Division of Wildlife in its weekly analysis of lakes and streams.

The division reports small mouth fishing in Sandusky Bay may improve some this weekend. It says some perch and crappies are being taken at Battery Park. Some catfish have been taken.

Elsewhere in Ohio, the outlook includes:

NORTHWESTERN: Inland lake fishing is good, with the best at Oxbow in Defiance and East Harbor in Ottawa County Lakes and streams are clearing, and the weekend outlook is good.

SOUTHEASTERN: Outlook for the weekend is good. Fine catches are reported in Hocking River in Athens and Hocking counties, the Walhonding in Coshocton and Burr Oak in Morgan, as well as in larger lakes such as Piedmont, Seneca, Clendening and Tappan.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN: All streams are in good condition with the exception of those in Adams, Lawrence and Gallia counties, with many smallmouth bass being taken. Rocky Fork Lake in Highland is clear in the east portion, but cloudy in the west. Some muskies, along with good catches of bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish, are reported. All Franklin County streams are clear as are those in Fayette, Fairfield, Knox and Morrow counties. Weekend outlook is good.

SOUTHWESTERN: Best fishing in state is offered here, in both lakes and streams. Better than average catches of bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish are reported from the entire district. Outlook is excellent for all species.

Chicago Cubs Doing Wonders With Nothing

Manager Stan Hack Just Keeps Shifting His Players Around

The Associated Press

The Chicago Cubs put you in mind of the folks who were too poor to paint and too proud to whitewash. They've simply been getting the job done with what little they have.

Manager Stan Hack, making infielders into outfielders, gets hits when he needs them from a bunch of guys hitting only .237 as a team. And without hauling in a load of newcomers, he's been getting great pitching from a staff that used to be barely adequate.

That's the way it was again Wednesday as the Cubs swept a double-header from the St. Louis Cardinals and climbed into second place in the National league, six games back of Brooklyn.

Paul Minner, who hadn't worked since May 6 and hadn't won since April 22, came up with a four-hitter, and rookie Bob Speake, an infielder now roaming the outfield, chipped in his sixth home run to win the opener 1-0.

It was the fifth shutout of the season for the Cubstaff—tops in the NL.

Veteran Bob Rush, with just one winning season in the majors, took charge in the nightcap, keeping the Cards 'imp with a two-hitter to win 3-1. He had a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a home run by Eddie Miksis (another outfield convert from the infield), a triple by Gene Baker and Speake's double. The Cards' run came on a homer in the ninth by Rip Repulski. Chicago has won six of its last seven.

That pushed the Cubs ahead of the New York Giants, who slipped to third while losing a twi-night pair at Philadelphia 8-3 and 5-2. The Giants now have lost three in a row after winning six straight.

In the American, New York's Yankees beat Washington 6-2 on Yogi Berra's three-run homer and a three-hitter by Bob Turley, who won his eighth decision in nine starts. The victory widened the Yanks' lead to 1½ games. Rain postponed Chicago at Cleveland.

Fourth-place Detroit peppered Kansas City 8-2 and Boston won the nightcap 5-2 in a twi-nighter at Baltimore after dropping the first 6-2.

Robin Roberts was smacked for four extra-base blows in the five hits he allowed the Giants in the opener, but was tough in the clutch to gain his sixth victory. The second-game success, which pulled the Phils out of the cellar while Pittsburgh dropped in, went to Murry Dickson with the relief help of Johnny Meyer. Del Ennis smashed a three-run homer as the Phils scored four in the first to beat Johnny Antonelli in the nightcap.

It was in the bag after Berra teed off against loser Maury McDermott in the first. Ed Fitz Gerald's low liner evaded Mickey Mantle in center for an inside-the-park homer and both Senator runs.

Baltimore slugged 12 hits—three by Billy Cox and two each by Gene Woodling and Hal Smith—to win the twilight opener from Boston. Then Ike Delock snared his fourth victory by five-hitting the Orioles. Lou Kretlow added a wild pitch to four Boston singles in a three-run third that wrapped up the nightcap.

Frank Lary got 14-hit support, including homers by Fred Hatfield and Bill Tuttle, while scuttling Kansas City on six hits. Ray Herbert, late of the Tigers, was the loser.

Warren Spahn, a 20-game winner in six seasons, was handed his sixth defeat by Cincinnati as the Redlegs went off on an 18-hit romp while Art Fowler won in relief. Spahn left after two innings, trailing 3-0.

'Peter Perri' Mystery Man In Ring Probe

That name appeared on a document introduced yesterday at the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission's hearings on the May 6th fight between Philadelphia boxer Harold Johnson and Cuban Julio Mederos.

The commission has charged that Johnson was drugged prior to the fight which he lost on a TKO when he was unable to answer the bell for the third round and had to be carried from the ring on a stretcher.

The document introduced yesterday bore the signatures of Perri, Tommy Loughrey, Johnson's manager of record, and Johnson. The commission said the contract, dated December 1948 showed that Johnson had two managers, a charge denied vehemently by Loughrey.

Loughrey jumped to his feet and shouted.

"I never saw it before. It's ridiculous. Tear it up and put it in the wastebasket. You're wasting your time."

Jeff Is Best on Paper But Tied for SWO Lead

Jeffersonville shares the top spot in the SWO League after the first four games of the season — and no wonder. In batting, the Jeff team average is a whopping .344. And Jeff's number one pitcher, Bucky Dumford, leads the league with lowest earned run average of 2.08 per game.

Tied for first place in the league is Good Hope. The Wayne Township team has a batting average of .287, and pitcher Bob Dawes has an earned run average of 2.67.

Jeff has a test coming in Sunday's game, when it will meet Mt. Sterling, the giant killer. Last week, Mt. Sterling knocked previously unbeaten Good Hope off its high horse — and did it from a spot at the bottom of the heap.

The Mt. Sterling — Jeffersonville game will be played on the Mt Sterling diamond. Good Hope will see action on the Blanchester diamond in Wilmington and Milledgeville is slated to play on the Washington C. H. team's home diamond at Bloomingburg.

The three games, all set for 2 P. M. Sunday, may break up the three ties that have bunched the league standings. With six teams in the running, none is lower than third place. Odd, eh?

The first place teams, Jeff and Good Hope, both have records of three wins and a single loss. Blanchester and Washington C. H. share the number two spot with 2-2 records, and Milledgeville and Mt Sterling are splitting third place with 1-3 marks.

The five top hitters of the league, all with averages of .500 or better, are Bob Alkire of Jeff, Wayne Joyce of Blanchester, Charlie Dawes of Good Hope, Bucky Dumford of Jeff and Lloyd Davis of Blanchester.

Horse Racing Bill Dropped By House

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio House yesterday voted, 94-20, to strike out an amendment to a horse racing bill. The amendment would have prohibited day running races and night harness races on the same day within 30 miles of each other or within the same county.

The Senate refused to accept the amendment Tuesday and the House then agreed to drop it.

Thief Said Vain

Cool Weather Cuts Turnout At Ladies Day

Cool weather discouraged some of the gal golfers and cut the usual ladies day turnout at the Country Club Wednesday somewhat but apparently it was a tonic for some of those who hit the fairways.

For, Mrs. Dwight Coffman turned in a best-ever 54 to take the low score prize and Mrs. Bill Junk carded a 55 for one of her best rounds in many a day.

Mrs. Charles Buxton recorded the lowest actual score of the day and the lowest of the season for a woman when she toured the course in 47 strokes. She had the low net score of 38 with a handicap of 9.

Four tied for second place were Mrs. Elmer Reed with 67-28 for 39, Mrs. Paul Pennington with 69-30, for 39, Mrs. R. Newhouse with 66-27 for 39 and Mrs. Mac Wilson with 72-33 for 39.

Mrs. Buxton took putting honors with 15 strokes on the greens. Mrs. Junk and Mrs. Max Thomas were tied for second place with 17 apiece.

Other scores for the day were Mrs. Robert Link 74-34-40; Mrs. Wayne Shobe 59-19-40; Mrs. Howard Osborne 74-33-41; Mrs. Joseph Herbert 78-37-41; Mrs. Francis Boyle 66-26-40 and Mrs. J. O. Garringer 62-21-41; Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roszmann were co-hostesses and Mrs. Scott Harner and Mrs. Francis Boyle are to be the hostesses for next Wednesday's Ladies' Day.

Indians Slated For Double Bill

The Indians, who have lost six of their last nine games, are only a half-game ahead of third-place Chicago. If they don't get at least a split today they'll drop to third themselves.

Spartan Slugger Wins Big 10 Title

CHICAGO (AP) — George Smith, Michigan State second baseman, was certified today as the 1955 Big Ten batting champion with a .485 average in 10 games.

Sleepy Merchant Fooled By Youth

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Wade Plyler, owner of Dill's Truck Stop, woke up about 5 a.m. to the sound of breaking glass. Looking out a rear window, he saw a youth who motioned violently to him to go to the front of the establishment. Fire, traffic accident, thought Plyler as he obeyed. When he returned the youth was gone. So were some goods.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Hot, and Very Hot, Peppers

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

THERE are quite a few varieties of hot peppers, some hotter than others. Two most frequently grown in home gardens are shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. They are Hungarian Wax, a light yellow becoming red, and Long Red Cayenne, which is very hot and pungent.

The Red Chili peppers also are grown in many home gardens. They are small but what they lack in size they make up in being extra hot and pungent

Pepper plants do not require much room. Therefore they can be grown in small gardens without crowding other plants. They are practical, often necessary, for flavoring sauces, or for pickling purposes and for relishes.

The plants will thrive on relatively poor soil, though a moderately rich, sandy loam suits them best. Sometimes fair crops can be grown on heavy clay. The plants must have good drainage. Too rich a soil will grow large plants with few fruits.

Peppers require a long season to develop fruits. Therefore it is not practical to make successive sowings. Plant varieties maturing in succession to ensure a constant supply.

Peppers are good for you because they are high in vitamins. Green peppers are an important source of vitamin C. Red peppers are an important source of vitamin A, as well as C.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Bands Lay Plans For Parade Here

Junior WHS Band At Bloomingburg Too

Both of the Washington C. H. High School bands—the Junior Band and the Varsity Band—are to be in the band room at 9:15 A. M. Monday in uniform and ready to form ranks and step out promptly at 10 o'clock for the Memorial Day parade, Bandmaster William B. Clift said.

There will be around 80 boys and girls of the Junior High School in the Junior Band and around 100, plus the drum major and majorettes, in the Varsity Band.

There may be some shifting around to fill up the ranks, but not much Clift said. He explained that some of this year's seniors in the Varsity Band had already turned in their uniforms and would not march in the parade. He added, however, that most of them would be in there, taking advantage what could well be their last opportunity to wear the blue and white uniforms that have meant so much to them through high school.

* * *

SOME OF THE Junior Band members may be moved up into the Varsity Band and some youngsters from the elementary school band may be moved up to fill the gaps in the Junior Band, Clift indicated.

Both bands will march in the parade to the Washington C. H. and St. Colman's Cemeteries here in the morning and then the Junior Band is to report back to the high school (Paint Street entrance) at 1 P. M. where they will be taken by busses to Bloomingburg to lead the parade from the center of the village to the cemetery. The parade route in Bloomingburg is not nearly so long as the one here.

Whatever the bands get for furnishing the parade music goes into the band fund which is used for just about everything from buying some instruments to uniforms; for the bands are virtually on their own as far as finances are concerned because tax money is not used for this purpose.

Drunk Driving Case Again Being Tried

For the second time a charge against Deloracy Carson of driving a motor vehicle while drunk, was being tried in municipal court before Judge Max G. Dice and a jury.

The plaintiff is represented by Harvey Crow of Cleveland, who was recently disbarred from further practice of law in Ohio but who obtained a stay of execution when he carried the case to the district court of appeals. City solicitor William Junk is attorney for the prosecution.

The charge against Mrs. Carson was filed last November 3, and on Dec. 2 she was tried by a jury and Judge R. L. Brubaker, but the jury disagreed.

Ford Said Ready With Pay Proposal

Ford has said repeatedly that it has maintained an open mind on the year-round wage proposal since bargaining talks started.

General Motors Corp. also has maintained it has had an open mind on the issue.

Stores Here Close On Memorial Day

Not only will most of the business places be closed during Monday, Decoration Day, but the Post Office will make no deliveries on that day except special delivery mail. There will be no Monday issue of the Record-Herald.

Acting Postmaster Clark Wickensimer, said that mail will be worked to the boxes Monday morning, and the lobby will be open during the usual hours, but there will be no regular city or rural delivery.

A spot check of stores and the Retail Merchants Committee showed only a few of neighborhood grocery markets would remain open to take care of emergency needs. Indications were that the drug stores would follow essentially the Sunday schedule and that at least one will be open.

Incurable Disease Kills 2 Sisters

Both were victims of pancreatic cystic fibrosis, the disease which causes the pancreas to function improperly.

This failure, in turn, leads to malnutrition and lower resistance, and the victims succumb to some infection which is the immediate cause of death.

Dr. Carroll Witten said the disease is unusual in one member of a family but "extremely rare" in two members.
